

Canada At War

A Review of Developments on the Home Front

The war came close to Canada when the passenger ferry, "CARIBOU," en route from Sydney, N.S., to Newfoundland, was sunk in Cabot Straits by an Axis submarine. The attack cost the lives of 137 of the passengers and crew out of a total of 238 on board and came in the pre-dawn of Friday, October 16. Fifty-four Canadians, 13 Americans, and a large number of Newfoundlanders and a number of Royal Navy seamen were lost. Sixteen were women—one of them the first Canadian Navy nursing sister to die on duty—and 14 were children. Capt. Ben Taverner and his two sons went down with their ship and in all 31 of the crew of 45 were lost trying to save the passengers and in a last minute effort to ram the sub, which surfaced and machine-gunned the victims struggling in the sea. Survivors were picked up by naval craft five hours after the sinking. The tragedy closely followed a daring attack by a U-boat at Metis Beach, far up the St. Lawrence River, on October 8 last. The victim was a westbound merchant ship and was the tenth ship lost in the river through submarine attack.

Ottawa announces curtailment of operations of all GOLD MINES which are non-producers of essential metals needed in the war effort. The move, which has been expected since a similar action last week in the United States, will release hundreds of men for use in essential industries and in base metal mines. Gold mines which, in addition to gold, produce marketable QUANTITIES OF OTHER METALS, such as arsenic, mercury and copper or zinc, will be permitted to continue in operation. The Government states that the move should not in any way be construed as a move away from the gold standard principle on which Canada's economy is based. Shortage of much needed manpower has forced the move and it is probably ONLY THE FIRST STEP in re-allocation of workers in non-essential plants to war work.

W. C. Mainwaring, chairman of the Provincial Civilian Protection Committee, announced last Thursday that a DIM-OUT of the southwest portion of Vancouver Island would be ordered. The action follows attack by Japanese submarines on west coast shipping and conferences with defence authorities. It was explained that a dim-out was necessary because raiders could use the BACKGROUND OF ILLUMINATION in the Victoria area to silhouette ships proceeding to and from Vancouver and Puget Sound ports. The situation was viewed as increasingly dangerous to shipping because other parts of the Pacific Coast are now dimmed out. The order to be made will ban ALL LIGHTS visible from the sea, including motor vehicle headlights.

Curtailment of production of NINE NEWSPRINT MILLS in Quebec Province to release 50,000 horsepower for war industries has been announced, following conferences between officials of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, National Selective Service and Power Controller H. J. Symington. The curtailment goes into effect immediately, said an announcement from the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Owners of UNUSED MINING EQUIPMENT who cannot be located by Federal authorities may return to their property to find the equipment gone. Munitions and Supply administrator of steel scrap reports that salvage agents make a close examination for scrap and if the owners could not be found the GOVERNMENT TAKES POSSESSION of the scrap. The government pays $2 a ton, which is held in trust for the owner. Regulations require owners of unused equipment TO REPORT IT and state whether further use is contemplated. If further use is intended, it would not be taken as scrap immediately, although later a demand for scrap might make it necessary to call in further unused machinery.

CHEWING GUM now joins ice cream as a war casualty. Stocks in both Canada and the United States have dwindled to a point where it is impossible to buy chewing gum in most localities. LARGE PURCHASES by the army in the United States and curtailment of sugar have caused the famine in gum and by the looks of things there won't be much around for the duration.

Announcement by Ottawa that FIFTY THOUSAND men and women will be required for war industry and the armed forces each month presages drastic CURTAILMENT OF INDUSTRY. The announcement that gold mining will be reduced will, it is understood, be followed by further reductions in non-essential industries. Even the UNIVERSITIES are going to feel the effect of the need for additional manpower, and physically fit young men may find their courses restricted to those that will fit them to be TECHNICAL OFFICERS in the armed forces or KEY SPECIALISTS in war industry. In outlining possible changes, Austin Wright, Assistant Director of National Selective Service, stated recently that if the war continued long enough the privilege of HIGHER EDUCATION might be lost to many and matriculation into university restricted to those with the highest marks.

It is stated on reliable authority from Ottawa that the Government will soon place in operation a plan designed to ASSIST NON-ESSENTIAL INDUSTRIES whose production will be discontinued for the duration. The plan will follow the scheme now in effect in Great Britain. It is designed to fill all manpower needs in ESSENTIAL INDUSTRY and at the same time take care of losses resulting from complete closure of non-essential plants or drastic reduction of normal production. No business will be closed down to provide manpower unless it is done after intensive study and it has been established that a particular unit is uneconomic. When such business is shut down there can be no complaint, because any FINANCIAL LOSS will be taken out of the general pool of those continuing in operation.

Plans for a standard HIGHWAY TO ALASKA which would supersede the pioneer road now nearing completion have been abandoned for the time being, Ottawa announces. Original plans contemplated the first "tote" road as a feeder trail nine feet in width. Once construction was started engineers found it was quite feasible to build a road 18 feet wide and this has been done. The result is that the present road can be used as a PERMANENT HIGHWAY and, while not up to the first grade standards, it is superior to many roads now used in the north country.

THE NAVY'S HERE — NEXT WEDNESDAY

The band of the Royal Canadian Navy from Esquimalt Naval Base will visit Kelowna on Wednesday next, arriving in the early afternoon. The band will play at a concert in the Scout Hall in the early evening, at which Reeve R. J. McDougall, of Penticton, will be guest speaker.

VERNON CITY, LEGION MAKE CORRECTION

Both State They Are Still Members of Okanagan Security Committee

NEVER DID RESIGN

Reputable Letter From Adolph Browne—"Written in Error"

The Vernon City Council and the Vernon Branch of the Canadian Legion have not withdrawn from membership in the Okanagan and Main Line Security Committee.

This surprising information has been received in official letters from the two bodies, written as a result of the progress report sent out by the Security Committee on October 1st.

The report quoted a letter sent to the Committee by Adolph Browne, northern representative on the executive committee of the security body. Mr. Browne's letter stated that: "At a meeting held in Vernon this morning (Aug. 21), attended by representatives of the Vernon Board of Trade, Vernon City Council, Coldstream Municipality, Coldstream Local of the B.C.F.A., Vernon Local of the B.C.F.A., Canadian Legion of Vernon, Okanagan Local of the B.C.F.A., and Winfield Local of the B.C.F.A., a resolution was passed unanimously that this district withdraw from the Okanagan Security Committee. This letter will serve as my resignation from your executive."

Apparently, upon receipt of the progress report, the Vernon City Council and the Canadian Legion of Vernon hastened to make plain that they still considered themselves as members of the Okanagan and Main Line Security Committee and that they had not withdrawn, nor had any intention of withdrawing.

The Vernon Canadian Legion, on October 3rd, wrote in part: "This branch has not withdrawn from representation on the committee and Mr. G. A. M. Carter is still our representative thereon. It will be seen from the foregoing that we have not departed from our original position."

Kelowna District Gives Pledge To Raise $385,000 To Supply Tools of War to Fighting Men

Impressive Ceremony as Mayor McKay Accepts Commando Dagger as Symbol of District's Pledge to Support Local Men in Fighting Services to Limit of District's Ability—Different Attitude in Crowd—Evidence of Serious Purpose Behind Ceremony and Victory Loan—Stirling Leads in Pledge

IN an impressive ceremony lasting barely twenty-five minutes Kelowna, on Saturday night pledged itself, individually and collectively, to support the Third Victory Loan to the utmost limit and to reach its quota of $385,000 at least. The pledge ceremony, centred around the presentation of the Commando Dagger, was held on Bernard Avenue and participated in by three or four thousand persons, who heard Hon. Grote Stirling make an inspiring short address.

It was an impressive moment when C. R. Bull, local War Finance Chairman, presented the Commando Dagger to Mayor G. A. McKay, who received it on behalf of the people of the district and expressed their determination to see that it is forwarded to a Kelowna man overseas just as soon as the quota is reached, which will be as quickly as humanly possible.

In the background, during the ceremony, the huge replica of the dagger which is to be used as the official indicator of the progress of the campaign, it now stands in front of the Post Office and the red of achievement has already climbed upwards on the blade.

The dagger stands on a huge Nazi cross, the point of the dagger piercing the cross. The black cross is already liberally sprinkled with red dripping from the blade.

Saturday night's dagger ceremony ran exactly as scheduled and was concluded at five minutes to ten, twenty-five minutes after it commenced.

The parade, consisting of the Winnipeg Light Infantry band; B Squadron, 9th Armored Regiment, B.C.D. C.A. (B); Pacific Coast Rangers; Canadian Legion; Women's Auxiliary; School Cadets; Boy Scouts and Cubs, left the Armory promptly on schedule and marched down Bernard to the Park, returning to the

Esquimalt Naval Band Gives Concert, Dance Here Next Wednesday

Will Be Here Afternoon and Evening—Concert in Scout Hall at Seven-thirty—Dance in I.O.O.F. Hall With Thirteen-Piece Orchestra at Nine-Thirty—Reeve McDougall, Penticton, Will Speak at Band Concert—Navy Band Made Host of Friends in June, 1940—Best Naval Band in Canada—Outstanding Dance Orchestra

ON Wednesday next Kelowna will be fortunate in having as its guests the members of the band of the Royal Canadian Navy, Esquimalt, which will play here during the afternoon and present a band concert in the evening, while its thirteen-piece orchestra will finish the day with a dance. This band is reputed to be the best naval band in Canada and is composed of forty-five musicians, who are touring the Interior in the interests of the Victory Loan.

Tax Payments May Break Record

Tax collections for 1942 in Kelowna have been most satisfactory. Mayor G. A. McKay states that, although the exact figures cannot be released until next week, he understands from City assessor F. T. Dunn that current taxes paid may exceed last year's amount when Kelowna experienced the third best year in history.

Whether the total amount paid in will exceed last year, when $129,046.23 was received, depends on settlement of taxes in arrears.

The percentage of current taxes paid last year was 94.32, and it is hoped that this mark may be broken. Kelowna has led B.C. cities in percentage of current taxes paid for some years.

The band is no stranger in Kelowna as it was here in June of 1940 and made an instantaneous hit with the entire population. This band was probably more enthusiastically received than any of the other bands which have visited the Valley in many years.

The band will arrive on the C.P.R. at one-thirty in the afternoon. During the afternoon it will parade the streets and play several selections. At seven-thirty in the evening the band will commence a concert in the Scout Hall, where seating accommodation will be increased for the occasion.

At this concert Reeve R. J. McDougall, of Penticton, will address the audience in the interest of the Victory Loan. Mr. McDougall is recognized as probably the outstanding speaker in the entire Okanagan Valley. He draws no punches and puts his ideas across by the use of words of one syllable. He was formerly publisher of the Penticton Herald. One son, a member of the R.C.A.F., has been lost as a result of the war.

Immediately following the conclusion of the band concert, a dance will commence in the I.O.O.F. Hall. The Navy's thirteen-piece orchestra will provide the music. Those who

COURIER AD. ATTRACTS ATTENTION

"I Died at Dieppe" Relayed by Wire Throughout Canada—Many Letters, Praise

"I Died at Dieppe," the advertisement carried over The Courier signature in our last week's issue, in aid of the Victory Loan, has received many favorable comments. Letters have been received from many sources, while verbal compliments have been very frequent.

While two letters of congratulation are carried in the "Letters to the Editor" column of this issue, this was but a small part of the mail which has centred around this advertisement.

Provincial War Finance headquarters apparently were exceptionally pleased, as G. Lyall Fraser, chairman of the provincial Public Relations section, has written:

"We were very much impressed by the splendid display advertisement which you carried over your own name in your issue of October 15th. I must say that the illustration and the message were very arresting. Our committee feels that such support as this is of the greatest assistance to our workers, and we want you to know that we appreciate your co-operation as well as the very effective reproduction of which you have incorporated in this instance."

S. Beck, of the B. C. War Finance Public Relations Committee, writes that a copy of the advertisement was sent out to all newspapers in British Columbia and the Yukon. In addition, Mr. Beck states, the message of the advertisement was wired in detail to Ottawa and was relayed by wire throughout Canada. This was the longest item of this type ever sent out from Vancouver.

The advertisement in question was prepared in The Courier office. So much favorable comment has been made that it was thought it might be reproduced again. However, this is impossible, as it has been destroyed.

DEHYDRATED APPLE PRICES INCREASED

Ottawa Permits Substantial Increase in Price of Dehydrated Apples—Processors Pleased

Word reached the Valley this week that the basic price on dehydrated apples has been increased by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board and established at what is considered a fairly satisfactory level by those firms engaged in this type of processing.

The newly established prices permit an increase of about one cent per pound over the price of a year ago, a considerable increase over the price of June, 1941, which the industry was instructed to use and under which it maintained that it could not operate.

The June, 1941, price was really a depression price and ran only about 7 1/2 cents on standard quality. The pack last year was cleaned out through export to the United States at about 10 cents, while the newly established price is 11 cents for standard quality packed in fifty-pound cartons.

The new prices, as released from Ottawa, are, all f.o.b. Kelowna: fancy grade, 14 cents when packed in 25-pound packages; 13 1/2 cents when packed in 50-pound packages; choice grade, 13 cents when packed in 25 pounds, 12 1/2 cents when packed in 50 pounds; standard grade, 11 cents when packed in 50 pounds; chips and substandard, 9 1/2 cents when packed in 50 pounds.

The Modern Foods Division of the Kelowna Growers Exchange is the only Valley firm in a position to pack any large quantity of evaporated apples this year. There are two plants in the southern section.

COMMANDO DAGGER

Drive This Blade Into The Heart of The Axis

Quota, $385,000

$128,550

Dagger Is Driven One-Third Into Axis In First Three Days

One-third of Quota is Subscribed—Two Hundred and Twenty-two Applications Account For Hundred and Twenty-eight Thousand, Five Hundred and Fifty Dollars—Kelowna Out in Front of Other Interior Cities—Amount of Subscriptions and Quota Percentage Both Trail Figures of Second Loan, However—Daily Average is About Forty-three Thousand Dollars—At Present Rate Will Take Nine Days to Reach Quota

Canvassers Report Good Reception

AT the end of the third day of the Victory Loan Campaign, Kelowna had driven the local Commando Dagger exactly one-third of its length into the heart of the Axis. Kelowna's figure of $128,550 was far ahead of other Interior cities, as far as could be ascertained. However, the local subscriptions were trailing those of last February at the same time by about ten thousand dollars, and the percentage quota is down about seven per cent. Ten thousand of the Kelowna figure was in the special names list, while the balance was credited to the general canvass.

On Monday the Kelowna subscriptions totalled $41,750, but these dropped on Tuesday to $32,300, only to jump on Wednesday to $54,500.

In the Second Victory Loan last February the first three days ran up a total of $138,250 or 40.7 per cent of the total. The current figure of $128,550 represents 33.3 per cent of the current total, a drop of 7.3 per cent from the second loan.

In the last loan the quota was $340,000, whereas it is currently $385,000.

The first three days this year netted $9,700 less than the first three days of the last loan. However, there is an explanation. During the last loan the day's closing was taken at midnight. This year, however, the day closes at noon, so actually the official figures given here were those of Wednesday noon—half a day less of canvassing than the per-

COT RETURNS UPPED OVER LAST YEAR

Pool Closed—Another Million Dollar Advance Made—Three and a Half Million Dollars to Date

An additional advance was made by B.C. Tree Fruits on Wednesday to the Valley shippers to be transmitted to the growers. This advance was for apples alone and amounted to $1,068,977.

This brings the total advances for the year to date on all fruits to $3,535,741.59.

The current advance is now in the hands of the shippers and will probably be in the hands of the growers during the next few days.

The apricot pool was closed this week and reveals a substantial increase in returns to growers, in some classifications amounting to about one and a half cents per pound.

The pool distributed $234,354.73, after deductions of 60458 cents were made. The claims on the pool were only $70.50. It is believed that this is the earliest the apricot pool has ever been closed.

The closing prices included fancy orchard run which was not packed last year. The price was $1.0583.

Display Lug No. 1 this year's price pool was $9368 cents, whereas last year it was .70 cents. There are about 15 pounds of cots in the lug so the increase was about 1.5 cents per pound.

The pool price on Display Lug No. 2 was $0.8555, whereas last year it was only .60 cents, again an increase of about a cent and a half a pound.

The pool is paying $0.86865 on Display Lug No. 2 Orchard Run and $0.91822 per ton on cots sent to the canneries, while those that went for jam brought $43.27 per ton. Last year the canneries price was only $65.29 and the jam price was $44.57.

The matter was taken up with Mr. Taylor, who merely replied with the bare statement that the letter had been written in error.

Red Cross Corps Opens Dormitory For Soldiers Here On Leave

New Quarters Are Credit to C.R.C.C. and City—Military Authorities Are Pleased

"The people of Kelowna deserve the thanks of the military authorities for their efforts to make things as comfortable as possible for soldiers from the Vernon Camp who are in this city on leave."

These were the words of Lt.-Col. J. N. Burnett, 19th Brigade Adjutant, who spoke briefly at the informal opening of the "renovated" Red Cross Corps dormitory, which now serves as the headquarters of the Canadian Red Cross Corps soldiers' recreation and billet rooms.

The Red Cross Corps dormitory has been spruced up considerably by the members of the Corps and now presents an attractive reading and recreation centre. The big change, however, is in an adjoining building, which has been transformed into an attractive dormitory to accommodate thirty-eight men.

The bunks are two-tiered and are varnished, bringing out the natural grain of the wood. The walls have been plastered and the ceiling has been finished with an attractive rough finish. In the centre of the ceiling is a suitable electric light fixture fashioned out of a varnished old wagon wheel.

The floor is smooth and varnished half of the Corps.

Fine Job By C.R.C.C.

It is regrettable that more people of Kelowna have not been privileged to see just what the Canadian Red Cross Corps has accomplished at Toc H, which has been turned over to the Corps to be used as billets and recreation rooms for soldiers from Vernon Camp here on leave. The girls of the Corps have done a marvellous job and now have sleeping accommodation for about forty men.

At the informal opening ceremony on Saturday last, Lt.-Col. Burnett stated that in those communities where the townspeople show an interest in the men there is very little disciplinary trouble, but where the townspeople are indifferent and time hangs heavily on the hands of the soldiers, then trouble begins. He lavished praise on the C.R.C.C. for their efforts and expressed the belief that the people of Kelowna would be well repaid for the interest they are showing in the men from the Vernon Camp.

The Toc H headquarters have been entirely furnished by the C.R.C.C. girls and gifts from interested town and country people. Much of the actual work such as painting and decorating, etc., has been done by the girls and the result is a credit to this community. Kelowna is fortunate in having an organization as active and as enthusiastic as the C.R.C.C., and the community owes a debt of gratitude to that body which can only be expressed through continued active support.

An Ominous Condition

In its September report to the City Council, the local detachment of the B.C. Police had occasion to draw to the attention of the Council the increasing levity of young people on the streets. The report mentioned that the condition was not local solely, but seemed to be a general one born of war conditions.

Juvenile delinquency throughout the country has increased alarmingly in recent years and today presents a serious problem. Convincing proof of its seriousness is given in figures which show the cases of delinquency on the part of children between the ages of 8 and 15 brought before the Toronto Juvenile Court were 1,023 in 1938, 1,060 in 1939 and 1,112 in 1940, and mounted ominously to 1,664 in 1941, an increase of nearly fifty per cent in a single year. The present year has brought no improvement, and educationalists and social workers offer testimony that, quite apart from the offences sufficiently serious to justify arrests and court hearings, there is a rise among a large element of the younger generation an epidemic of undisciplined lawlessness and disrespect for authority and the rights of others which is responsible for spiritual and material damage on an extensive scale. The same problem is arousing concern in Montreal, Halifax, and the majority of our large cities, and many weekly newspapers have expressed grave anxiety about conditions which have developed in their towns, and advocate a revival of the curfew law to bar children of tender years from the streets at night. It is small comfort to realize that the authorities in great cities like London, New York and Detroit are equally worried about juvenile delinquency.

The factors contributing to the unfortunate situation are not obscure. In hundreds of households the father is absent on war service of some kind, and in many others the mother can spend only a part of her time at home for the same reason. As a result there is a relaxation of the normal parental control at a time when youthful emotions are being subjected to the abnormal stimulus generated by war.

Again thousands of young folks are cutting short their education and finding employment at wages which give them not only a lot of free spending money but an exalted idea of their own importance in the scale of things. So they claim for themselves the full privileges and liberties of adults at an age when many of them have a narrow experience of life's problems and have not acquired any real sense of responsibility for their actions. There is also in many communities a regrettable lack of organized recreational facilities through which young folk could occupy their leisure pleasantly and profitably. The net result is a deterioration in the morale of the younger generation which bodes ill for the future.

If concerted efforts, well supported by the public, are not made to cope with this deterioration, the consequences well may prove calamitous; and the problem merits the immediate attention of the responsible local and national authorities. Every possible encouragement should be given the work of the Boy Scouts, the Girl Guides, and other organizations which seek to develop in the young habits of moral and mental discipline and a taste for intelligent recreation, and the available recreational facilities for the young could be profitably expanded. The whole problem is so serious that it might be advisable for the Federal Government to call a conference of authorities and social workers, who are concerned about it, as a prelude to the evolution of a workable program for dealing with the problem.

A Good Investment

It is frequently said—over the radio, in the press, on factory bulletin boards—that Victory Bonds are the safest security in the world—the best investment anyone can make.

Is this true?

It is often asked: "Granting that one should buy Victory Bonds for reasons of patriotism, isn't it likely that these bonds will become worthless, and in due time the buyer will find that he has made a contribution rather than an investment?"

This is a fair question and deserves a thoughtful answer.

Despite the fact that we have a long row to hoe, there is no question as to our ultimately winning the war. The growing industrial might of the Allied Nations, the growing realization that all of us on what is called "the home front" must contribute our share, will eventually turn the tide.

This statement by no means deprecates the valiant task so ably performed by those in the fighting lines.

With our fighting personnel so ably carrying on, the only question as to the outcome of the war is the time it will take for us to win, and this hinges in large measure on the assistance given on the home front in the form of speedier war production and heavier financial aid.

The importance of these latter factors from the point of view of Victory Bonds is that we must win the war to make certain that the bonds will be paid at maturity. There is no question whatever about that fact.

There is one risk, however, and it is a real risk. The same risk affects not only Victory Bonds, but all other revenue-producing enterprises, and every dollar to be paid in future salaries. That is that, when the bonds are paid off, the dollars received may buy less than the dollars with which we buy bonds today.

We will receive the same number of dollars we invest, plus the interest, but they could be worth much less than they are today. Fifty dollars invested today could be worth perhaps $30 when the $50 is repaid.

In other words, the only risk involved in the purchase of War Bonds is inflation.

In the United States, we have seen evidence of inflation. In Canada we have seen prices heading upwards. We pay more for most commodities than we did a year or two ago. Herculean efforts are being made by the governments of both countries to check this upward trend, and a large measure of success is being achieved in this respect.

But governments cannot do it all despite rigid controls. People who insist on using surplus funds to hoard supplies will find some way to secure those supplies, paying higher than controlled prices, undermining controls and creating fictitious values.

Upon the public itself rests a large measure of responsibility for defeating inflation.

Does this mean that one should not buy Victory Bonds because of the possibility of inflation? It certainly does not. It means exactly the reverse. The more of the bonds we buy, the less chance of inflation.

This is so much the case that if the entire cost of the war was financed by the sale of Victory Bonds and taxation, the risk would be eliminated entirely for all practical purposes, because in that event inflation would be stopped.

The proper policy for everyone, therefore, is to buy Victory Bonds—buy them, not only by withdrawing money from savings banks, but out of current income also. In addition, especially while prices are high, we should not buy those things we can do without. This money, placed into Victory Bonds, would not only set aside interest-bearing funds for future use, but, if we strangle inflation, this money may buy MORE instead of LESS when repaid to us, for it will come back when industrial machinery has been diverted from war production to the production of peace-time commodities. The dollar invested in Victory Bonds in 1919 was worth $1.87 in purchasing power when the bonds were redeemed in 1934.

A Railway Man Retires

The resignation of S. J. Hungerford from the chairmanship of the directorate of the Canadian National Railways signals the end of a notable career in Canadian transportation, and the final severance of a connection which lasted twenty-four years. A native of Bedford, P.Q., Mr. Hungerford has been architect of his own fortunes, beginning his railway career modestly as a machinist's apprentice in C.P.R. shops at Farnham, near his birthplace. His skill as a machinist and his other abilities brought him in the service of the C.P.R. progressive promotion to a series of varied posts in different sections of Canada, with the result that he gained a knowledge of traffic conditions and problems in every quarter of the Dominion. In 1910 he accepted an attractive offer to transfer his abilities to the then rapidly expanding Canadian Northern system, and had risen to become general manager of its Eastern lines eight years later, when its difficulties resulted in its absorption in the State-owned Canadian National system.

In its operating hierarchy Mr. Hungerford was properly given an important position as assistant vice-president, and it fell to his lot in this and higher offices to make a large contribution to the consolidation of what began as a ramshackle system into a well co-ordinated and efficient railroad organization. By 1932 his prestige as a competent railroad executive was so high that when Sir Henry Thornton retired from the presidency of the C.N.R. the Government of the day regarded Mr. Hungerford as his logical successor. In the presidency he guided the destinies of his railway through difficult times, and was able to hand it over to his successor, R. C. Vaughan, with its reputation for efficiency greatly improved.

Mr. Hungerford has all his life concentrated himself upon a single goal, competence in his chosen vocation, and he acquired it early in life, and never lost it. A railwayman first and last, he has had few interests outside his work, which he was content to perform in a modest, unobtrusive way; he never sought publicity for himself, and his actions and his personality have almost been unknown to the general public. But the railwaymen who served him had a great respect for one who was expertly familiar with every phase of railroading, and they liked an executive who, knowing their problems and working conditions, was always ready to treat them fairly.

The primary interest of Mr. Hungerford for many years now has been the efficiency of the C.N.R. and its provision of a first-class service to the public, and his achievement of these has earned him both a well-merited leisure and the gratitude of the Canadian people.

(From the files of the Kelowna Courier)

THIRTY YEARS AGO

"Evidence that the publicity work of the Board of Trade reaches remote places was afforded to us last week by a request for a copy of The Kelowna Courier from a resident of Bridgetown, Barbadoes, who stated that he had seen the paper mentioned in a pamphlet issued by the Board and that he was desirous of obtaining some further information about Kelowna."

"Contractor Duffy, of the Kettle Valley Railway, took out a large force of navies on Tuesday to work on the section now under construction north of Carmi. Laborers are constantly arriving by steamer and are being taken out to the camps as fast as they can be handled. In order to accommodate the men while in town, an enterprising individual has remodelled a dwelling-house on Eli Avenue, east of Abbott Street, into a commodious bunk-house which will help to relieve the congestion in the hotels."

"Kelowna will be represented at the Dry-Farming Congress, to be held at Lethbridge next week, by two exhibits. The Board of Trade is making a display of plates and boxes of apples in charge of Dr. Dickson. The quantity shown will be quite large, allowing of a representative collection of the best varieties. The British North American Tobacco Co. will have an attractive exhibit of raw and manufactured tobacco, which should open the eyes of some of the visitors to the Congress as to the range of products that can be grown in this climate."

The Kelowna Study Club elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Robinson; Vice-President, Mrs. Knight; Second Vice-President, Miss Fullerton; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. E. Armstrong; Press Correspondent, Mrs. Dayton Williams.

A branch of the Political Equality League, formed for the purpose of securing the suffrage for women, was organized at a meeting held on October 11th, with the following executive: Mrs. J. E. Whitehead, Mrs. Rose Macready, Mrs. C. C. Josselyn, Mrs. Fuller, Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. Dora F. Kerr (Secretary), R. C. H. Mathie, C. Fulton.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
Thursday, October 19, 1922

"Motor car traffic on the Kelowna-Westbank ferry is very much greater this month than in October of last year. The outstanding feature is the number of cars passing through from distant points, several coming from Minnesota, the middle States and even Texas, during the past week."

"During the latter part of last week the majority of the local packing houses had to stop taking more apples, the latter arriving in such quantities as to cause congestion except where there were ample storage facilities. The firms who have recently acquired or erected large storage space have no need to vaunt the fact as its value is already fully demonstrated. All the shipping houses have accepted all fruit offered since the beginning of this week."

"The Kelowna Fish and Game Protective Association, after long waiting, has been successful in its efforts to induce the Government to appoint a number of honorary game wardens for this district. These gentlemen, fifteen in number, have been sworn in as special constables, without pay, and have full authority in matters pertaining to the Game Act. Their names are not given, for obvious reasons. The Association has also arranged for a shipment of 20,000 Kamloops trout fry for the small lakes in this district and has put in an application for an additional 50,000. It has requested the game authorities to establish a closed season for five years for Pear, Haynes and Cariboo Lakes."

At a meeting on Monday evening, October 16th, which was largely attended, it was decided to revive the Kelowna Rugby Football Club, and the following officers were chosen: Honorary President, Dr. B. F. Boyce; President, Major J. C. MacDonald; Vice-President, F. A. Taylor; Secretary-Treasurer, T. E. Norris; Committee, R. Whillis, H. G. M. Wilson, J. H. Thompson, G. D. Cameron, F. Laxon; Captain, F. Laxon; Vice-Captain, G. D. Cameron. The Owen Cup, a perpetual challenge trophy, then held by Kelowna, had not been played for since the end of the war, but it was hoped to arrange a series of matches with Vernon."

This issue of The Courier contains an advertisement of the Letters Patent of the District Municipality of Glenmore. The date of nomination of the first Council, consisting of a Reeve and four Councillors, was set for Wednesday, November 1st, with a poll, if necessary, on Saturday, November 4th.

TEN YEARS AGO
Thursday, October 20, 1922

Eleven hundred people saw "The Chance of a Night-time," a British comedy production starring Ralph Lynn, English comedian, which was shown at the Empress Theatre on October 18th as a benefit performance for the Kelowna General Hospital. The Hospital realized the gratifying sum of $228 net.

Up to the close of business on October 17th, 799,931 boxes of McIntosh apples, or 64.3 per cent of the estimated total crop, had been shipped, according to the 1932 Apple Cartel. Of the shipments, 55 per cent went to domestic markets and 45 per cent export. Shipments of all other varieties of apples totalled 138,211 boxes domestic and 222,475 export. Effective October 19th, the following prices were set by the Cartel: Jonathan, bulk, $25.00 ton; other varieties, bulk, $20 ton; Winesap, Yellow Newtown, box, extra fancy, $1.50, fancy, $1.35, Cee, $1.20; Stayman, box, extra fancy, $1.35, fancy, $1.25, Cee, $1.00; Rome Beauty, Spitzenberg, Golden Delicious, box, extra fancy, $1.25, fancy, $1.15, Cee, $1.00; Winter Nelis pears, box, fancy, $1.75, Cee, $1.50.

During recent weeks, six grizzly bears had fallen before the rifles of hunters. All were shot on the Grey-backs plateau, from forty to fifty miles easterly from Kelowna. Tom Lindey, a trapper of the Kettle River district, accounted for five near the sheep grazing areas, and Hugh Macdonald, of Okanagan Mission, shot the sixth.

TWO DAYS AFTER THE EDITORIAL on this page dealing with today's youth problem was written, I heard a group of men discuss the same subject. The subject discussed was the institution of the curfew law in this city. Not all of them were in favor of it, as they were not sure that a curfew would solve the problem. I was interested in the problem, as two days before I had endeavored to put my thoughts down on paper. Certainly it is one which is demanding a great deal of attention throughout the country today. . . . With the advent of war, military, navy and air force camps sprang up in different towns and villages. The camps are being increased in size and the larger the number of men in the camps the greater the difficulty in controlling their civilian contact. A number of towns where military camps are situated have realized that there is a great difficulty in protecting young girls of their communities, and various methods of control have been tried. One weekly which reached our desk advised parents to watch their daughters, as due to the recent restrictions on store lighting and electric signs, the editorial suggests that porches of many stores provide excellent trying-places. It further suggests that parents should take a walk along the main street some time and see what goes on, suggesting that they may even see their own daughter. . . . Kelowna is a little more fortunate than some of the towns, as there is no large camp here, but we are close enough to a large camp to receive the backwash of the situation, and the problem locally is causing some concern. The Hostess Club and the C.R.C.C. are helping materially, but, apparently, it is not enough. Civilian authorities must do their part, and some parents religiously see to it that their children are off the streets at a respectable hour, but there are others who do not seem to bother. In consequence, it is quite a common occurrence to see young girls trailing around at very late hours. In some towns where action has become necessary a curfew has been enforced, which requires all young children up to a certain age to be off the streets at a specified time. The only way that these youngsters can be on the streets after that time is if they are accompanied by their parents or a guardian, not just an adult person. . . . Some think it is time such an action was taken in Kelowna. Nothing very serious has happened thus far, but these people maintain that it is as well to take preventative measures now rather than wait until the cure is of no avail. People would probably raise their voices against some one else telling them what to do about their children, but, generally speaking, it would only be those who have not done something about the matter. Those who have been trying to protect their children would welcome the restrictions as it would ease their having to continuously remonstrate with them. "Ethel Jones can go out, so why can't I?" If it is against the law, Ethel Jones will have to be in at the same time as the other girls, or picked up by the police and explain the reason.

ANOTHER POINT WHICH is worrying a number of authorities in different towns is the increased danger of venereal disease. Persons handling food should be subjected to a rigid checkup from time to time, in order to protect the patrons of these establishments from possible spread of the disease. It is quite possible for an innocent person to become infected with a disease from an already infected, just through the handling of food. Toilets used by the public generally should undergo periodical inspection for cleanliness and proper sanitation. Employers knowing of persons in their employ who are infected should question them as to what precautions they are taking to prevent the spread of disease. All these things must be taken into consideration. We often hear the phrase "It can't happen here," but we should recognize that this thing can happen here just as well as any other place. If we want to prevent it happening here, we must take precautions towards prevention, then, perhaps, it will not happen here. . . . The question is are we going to heed the warnings or are we going to let them go unheeded and wait till what has befallen other towns, becomes our lot also? The young people of Kelowna need protection. Better to give that protection before the real danger approaches than after it is already here. . . .

TO THE LIST OF compulsions Canadian citizens are forced to submit should be added "Mrs. Miniver." It would do more good for Canada and the cause of the United Nations than all the restrictions, regulations and registrations our harassed governmental officials can think of. "Mrs. Miniver" is probably the greatest motion picture the industry has produced. A simple story of an English family, it shows their life before the outbreak of the People's War in 1939, and it goes on to describe how the war affected them. To appreciate the safety and comfort of our Canadian homes, one has only to see the Minivers crouched in an air-raid shelter with the Jerries letting hell loose around them. To realize the fiendish cruelty of the German, one has only to see the R.A.F. plane go hurtling down in flames to earth and watch the Hun follow it down to machine-gun the survivors, if anyone could survive such a hell. To appreciate our churches, one has only to witness the scene in the little Anglican church. Watch the congregation fill up the pews and the choir boys file up the aisle and take their place amid the ruins. See the vicar stand with the daylight streaming down on him through the gap in the roof where the German bomb had fallen. (What of the many beautiful Canadian churches partly filled each Sunday? Will it take German bombs to make many Canadians realize what their religion means to them and bring them back to church?) To appreciate that war is no respecter of persons, listen to the vicar sympathize with the families of the victims of the last air raid. The victims—a choir boy from the church, the station master, and the granddaughter of an aristocrat who incidentally is the wife of Vincent Miniver, Mrs. Miniver's son. . . . Perhaps the high spot of the play is when Vincent Miniver, the bereaved airman, after listening to the Vicar tell them that this war is the People's War, leaves the pew where his middle-class family sits and crossing the aisle takes his place with Lady Beldan in her pew. They share a hymn book and sing "Onward Christian Soldiers." Here we have symbolized in a dramatic moment the wiping away of class distinctions by the war. . . . If Canadians can come away from seeing "Mrs. Miniver" without a lift, without pride swelling in their hearts, without a feeling of respect and awe for that country that is Britain, without a determination not to "let down" those gallant people over there, then there is something wrong with them. As propaganda the picture has no superior. If anything can increase the sale of Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates, build up morale, prevent people from hoarding and wasting, it is "Mrs. Miniver."

WE WERE CAUGHT AND admit it! One of our readers complained bitterly that we had misquoted J. J. Ladd, Victory Loan Publicity chairman, last week. "Jack Ladd never said, 'let the cadences ring in such a volume that Knox Mountain would tremble on one side and Black Knight on the other'." Our reader was quite right. What Mr. Ladd did say—as our reader guessed—was, "Tell them to sing, sing, sing." We admit the incorrect reporting and apologize to Mr. Ladd and our complaining reader. . . .

Which Shall It Be... VICTORY or DEFEAT?

The cost of victory is blood... sweat... tears... and treasure!
But the cost of defeat is EVERYTHING... from EVERYONE!

Shall it be victory or defeat?
Every Canadian must give his answer—in terms of putting every dollar he can possibly spare into the new Victory Bonds. The money you invest in Victory Bonds will come back to you with interest. But defeat would cost you everything you own... your savings, your home, perhaps your very life.

RATION BOARDS OPPOSED BY MUNICIPALITIES

Vernon and Penticton Civic Bodies Wary of Proposed Local Ration Board Set-up—Much Work Entailed

Both the Penticton Municipal Council and the Vernon City Council have sharply criticized the local Ration Board set-up proposed by the Dominion Government. Their attitude is one of doubt that such a plan is workable in the Okanagan, where the Boards will have to cover much territory outside municipal limits.

While anxious in every way to help Ottawa in the war effort, the municipal bodies feel that members of the Board would be forced either to neglect their own work or evade their responsibilities on the Board. The Vernon City Council expressed the opinion that the local Board would "only serve as a bumper for paid members of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board."

The Penticton Council, backed by Councillor J. W. Johnson's statement that "resistance to any sound scheme to help this cause would be unpatriotic on our part, but, on the other hand, falling in with any haphazard, unworkable idea would be just as inadvisable."

In all cases civic bodies are handicapped in their decision by lack of adequate information from Ottawa, and in most cases have reserved final decision until more details are available.

Every bond you buy, every dollar you lend to your country, is a dagger thrust at the enemy's throat.

FARMERS PAVE ROAD TO VICTORY

Canadian Farmers Given Unique Opportunity to Help War Effort Through Victory Tickets

OTTAWA—Victory Loan canvassers are armed with a new and potent weapon for garnering the 1942 bumper crop of farm dollars. The weapon is the Victory Ticket—a unique, imaginative device which sprang from the grass roots in Western Canada and is now adopted by the National War Finance Committee as an auxiliary method of channeling farm income into the war effort.

In brief, Victory Tickets are a means whereby Canadian farmers, in addition to cash purchases of Victory Bonds or War Savings Certificates, may acquire bonds or certificates in exchange for farm produce at the time that produce is marketed.

No down payment is required to purchase Victory Tickets. Farmer Johnston, who can afford only $100 in cash but who expects to market 10 or 20 hogs next December, can book his Victory Bond purchases to $300 or $500 by merely putting a Victory Ticket on his pigs. Subsequently he tenders his pigs in payment for Victory Bonds or War Savings Certificates. The deal is completed at the time his pigs go to market, and he gets an official seal to paste on his ticket, as well as the bonds or certificates themselves.

What Is Behind The Idea
Behind the Victory Ticket idea is the common sense fact that most cash farm income, unlike most wages or salary payments, is seasonal and irregular. Many farmers will have, in 1942, a capacity to purchase Victory Bonds or War Savings Certificates considerably beyond their cash resources at the date the canvassers come round to talk. This Victory Loan.

The ticket is not a commitment to purchase a stated amount of bonds. It is an agreement between the farmer (or any member of his family) to purchase bonds or certificates with the proceeds of the sale of certain quantities of farm produce at the time that this produce would normally be marketed. The transaction may be completed at any time between October 19 and February 28, 1943. If the proceeds of the sale are, say $192.50, the farmer will receive $150 in Victory Bonds and the balance in War Savings Certificates and War Savings Stamps. Or he may take the whole amount in certificates if he wishes, so long as his total purchase of certificates does not exceed the individual limit of $600.

Another sales wrinkle is the combining of patriotism, plus self-interest in an approach which will link war loan sales with the purchase of needed equipment and repairs such as can be deferred or can only be made after the war is over.

Part of the money which farmers receive from the sale of their products is properly looked upon as money to be set aside to replace old tractors, binders, farm buildings. In a time of rising farm income such as at present, many farmers would normally be spending a considerable amount of money—possibly in the aggregate over $100 millions annually—in this manner.

But little, if any, farm equipment is now available either for replacement or expansion. Existing barns and equipment must be used with the minimum of replacement and repair.

This is where the Third Victory Loan campaign will mesh into the farm picture by urging the sound business practice of earmarking, say, a $300 Victory Bond for the purchase of a new tractor at war's end. Bonds will be sold in terms of specific farm needs—tractors, binders, local improvements, etc.

For the housewife, the same appeal will be used in terms of washing machines, refrigerators or other household furniture or equipment.

Seven Hundred Thousand Farmers
It is hoped eventually to get the majority of Canada's 700,000 farmers making a regular commitment to set aside all or a portion of cash income from certain types of produce for the purchase of Victory Bonds or War Savings Certificates. The initial program of selling "produce for Victory" will be supplemented by a program which will encourage the farmer to "produce

KELOWNA HOOP SQUAD MOVES UP A NOTCH

Mitchell's Reds Will Enter Intermediate "A" Competition This Season—Team Strengthened by New Men

The Kelowna "Reds" basketball team, which gave Vancouver "Higbies" such a strong fight in the Intermediate "B" finals here last spring, are moving up into faster company.

Under the sponsorship of Harry Mitchell, men's wear merchant, the boys are entering Intermediate "A" competition and are looking forward to again meeting Higbies Aces, who have also advanced, in the Intermediate "A" B. C. finals next year.

The team will be strengthened by the addition of several new players. Centre spot, which was a weak link last year, will be bolstered by a prairie flash who towers over six feet, and the Reds' attack will be built around this new player.

In addition to games with Penticton and Summerland, it is expected that hoop squads from the Vernon Camp and the local B.C.D. Reserve will be in action, and the Reds will benefit from the strong competition offered by the soldiers. All in all, it looks like a good season for basketball, and local supporters, who turned out well last season, can be assured of even better entertainment this winter.

AVOID SOAP IN WASHING PAINT

Washable painted walls are worthy of good care. The wrong way to clean them is to wash them down with strong laundry soap or soap powder. The dirt will be removed but white paint will end up yellowed, and colored paints won't look much like they were originally.

A washable painted wall should be rubbed with a cloth or sponge wrung out of light suds made with the mildest of soap or soap powder, using even up and down strokes. Rinse the wall with a cloth or sponge wrung out of clear water, then wipe dry with a soft cloth. Home economics experts warn against using coarse scouring powder or strong alkali on paints.

for Victory."

Such a program will encourage extra production—a few dozen more eggs each month, a little more milk, a few more hogs—the proceeds of which will be turned into Victory Tickets and at the same time will add 10, 15 or perhaps 25 per cent to the amount of farm production available for Great Britain or for Canadian wartime consumption.

It is possible that some way will also be found of encouraging Canadian farmers to use their government subsidies in the direct purchase either of Victory Bonds for cash or by means of Victory Tickets. The total farm income in 1942 is placed at somewhere between $1,000 and $1,100 millions. This compares with estimated income of about $875 millions in 1941, $740 millions in 1940, $710 millions in 1939 and $650 millions in 1938.

LIFE INSURANCE IS THE PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

PROTECTION

...for the people

...by the people

IN peace time, peace of mind goes deep. Yet you can often see it in a face. You can usually tell when a man or woman has a sense of security. You can see it in the springy step of a doctor in Vancouver. You can see it in the calm eyes of a farmer on the Prairies. You can feel it in the firm grip of a miner in Sudbury. You can hear it in the unruffled voice of a school teacher in Quebec. You can sense it in the quiet heartiness of a store clerk in Halifax.

Men and women who enjoy the financial security of life insurance are typical Canadians... if you can call four million people typical. Some are young, some are middle-aged, some are old. Most of them are wage-earners and people of moderate means. Life insurance came into existence because these people needed protection, and its assets in Canada... now over two billion dollars... are owned by the people it serves. Each one of you protects the other, and as you protect each other, so you protect yourselves and the nation.

Right now, peace of mind and protection depend on victory. That is why you should work, save and lend to the limit of your ability. But every dollar you can into War Savings is the advice of your life insurance companies who have invested millions of your premium savings in war loans to buy the tools of victory.

CPL. G. S. ROSS HONG KONG PRISONER

Mrs. Ross Lives at Avalon—Enlisted With Winnipeg
Grenadiers in 1939

Mrs. Gordon Samuel Ross, 210 Avalon Apartments, received word last Wednesday from Ottawa, through the International Red Cross, that her husband, Cpl. Gordon S. Ross, Winnipeg Grenadiers, is a prisoner of war in Hong Kong.

This was the first news that Mrs. Ross had received of her husband since the middle of December, 1941, when she received an air mail letter which crossed on the last Trans-Pacific Clipper to leave Hong Kong before its fall.

Cpl. Ross was born at Baldur, Man., and moved to Saskatchewan while still a boy. Later he was manager of a lumber company in Pathology, Sask., and in 1920 he moved to Winnipeg, where he was employed by the Ashdown Hardware Company for the next ten years, for part of that time being manager of the furniture department of that firm.

On September 5th, 1939, Cpl. Ross enlisted in the Winnipeg Grenadiers and spent sixteen months in Jamaica, British West Indies. He returned subsequently to Canada and spent thirteen days leave in Kelowna visiting his wife and children, in September, 1941, prior to his departure for Hong Kong.

Cpl. Ross' parents, Mrs. D. A. Ross and the late D. A. Ross, were former residents of Kelowna, the latter having passed away while his son was in Jamaica. Mrs. Ross and a sister, Mrs. E. A. Harrison, are residing at 1319 Minto Street, Victoria.

Cpl. Ross has four brothers, two of whom are living in the U.S.A., Spurgeon in Cleveland and Jack in Michigan, a younger brother, Donald, is with the R.C.A.F., and the other, Clarence, in Saskatoon, serving in the armed forces during the last war. His second sister, Mrs. W. Magwood, resides in Imperial, Sask.

Cpl. and Mrs. Ross, the former Hilda Pitchford, of Winnipeg, were married in Winnipeg in 1923, and they have two daughters, Beryl, aged twelve, and Donna, nine.

The big ones have not started to rise to the surface yet in Okanagan.

HOME GUARDS LEARN ABOUT CAMOUFLAGE

"Make-up" tips are as important to the modern Home Guard as to an actress, and the men on whom Britain would depend in case of an invasion are taught the theory as well as the practice of camouflage. A guard is shown having "black face" applied during a lecture and demonstration at a training camp.

CLEANING UP LEATHER PRESENTS NO PROBLEM

For cleaning upholstery leather, use a damp cloth and mild soap. Saddle soap is especially good for leather. Rub surface briskly, next wipe off with a damp cloth to which no soap has been applied. Finish by rubbing dry with a clean, soft cloth. Rub until surface is smooth and glistening. Never use cleaners or polishes containing benzene, turpentine, alcohol or naphtha on leather upholstery since they may ruin the surface and the leather.

Lake, but fishermen are finding good sport with fighting trout from one to three pounds which are in good numbers all over the lake. Surface trolling gets the best results and a variety of tackle is getting the fish. Slow trolling is recommended.

Penticton Airmen Drowned After Bomber Crashes In Alaskan Wilds

A.C. 1 J, MacIntosh Loses Life
While Seeking Aid — Cpl.
Donald Killed in Crash

The crash of an R.C.A.F. bomber against an Alaskan mountainside in a dense fog some weeks ago resulted in the death of A.C. 1 J. MacIntosh, of Penticton, and Cpl. J. P. Donald, of New Westminster.

Donald was killed in the crash, but MacIntosh, detailed by Filt-Sergt. Frank M. Baily, of Vancouver, party T. Silberman, of Vancouver, in a search for habitation, was drowned while fording a river.

P.O. Peter Gault, of Montreal, was injured in the crash, as was another crew member, Sergt. R. Roberts, who suffered a broken leg.

After the crash, Baily administered artificial respiration to P.O. Gault and put Roberts' leg in splints. The crash scattered parts of the plane over a wide area and the crew were able to find only one box of emergency rations. Baily sent MacIntosh and Silberman, who had sustained a fractured jaw, to explore the adjacent country in search of help and directed them to mark their trail with bits of paper.

After two days, Baily, along with A.C. 1 T. Maylor, set out after the searchers and found Silberman weak from lack of food and alone, MacIntosh having drowned while crossing a swiftly running stream. The three airmen dragged themselves along a trail through dense woods, surrounded by towering mountains above the valley they hoped would lead them to safety.

Their only weapons were a knife and an axe with a broken handle. After nine days of existing on wild fruit and roots the party came to an abandoned cabin. Inside were provisions, tobacco and gasoline, and they rested there and prepared some real food. The next day a search plane came over and, after identification, rations were dropped by parachute the following day, and directions were given how to find the nearest settlement, thirty miles away.

Maylor and Silberman were flown to a Canadian base after the men reached the tiny village of six inhabitants, and Baily joined the rescue plane, piloted by Filt-Lieut. Dick Preston, of Ottawa. The seaplane made a skilful landing on a glacial lake near the scene of the crash, and the rescuers made their way through dense bush to find P.O. Gault and Sergt. Roberts about to break camp in a desperate effort to find their way to the emergency rations was exhausted.

Both Filt-Sergt. Baily and Filt-Lieut. Preston were highly commended for exemplary conduct and devotion to duty.

DOMINION ISSUES NEW CANADA YEAR BOOK

Latest Edition of Reference Work Deals With All Phases of National Life and Progress

The 1942 edition of the Canada Year Book, published by authorization of the Hon. James A. Mackenzie, Minister of Trade and Commerce, is announced by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The Canada Year Book is the official statistical annual of the country and contains a thoroughly up-to-date account of the natural resources of the Dominion and their development, the history of the country, its institutions, its demography, the different branches of production, trade, transportation, finance, education, etc.—in brief, a comprehensive study within the limits of a single volume of the social and economic condition of the Dominion. This new edition has been thoroughly revised throughout, and includes in all its chapters the latest information available up to the date of going to press.

The 1942 Canada Year Book extends to over 1,000 pages, dealing with all phases of the national life and more especially with those susceptible of statistical measurement. A statistical summary of the progress of the country is included in the introductory matter. This gives a picture in figures of the remarkable progress that the country has made since the first census of the Dominion was taken in 1871.

Special War Articles
The special articles that are contained in this edition of the Year Book have been selected to illustrate the effects of the war on the Canadian economy and to show such changes and developments as have taken place to date. Several additional lithographed inserts are included. This has been made possible through the courtesy of the Under Secretary of State and by the use of plates from the Census Atlas of Canada.

A complete list of articles and of historical or descriptive text that has not been subject to wide change, and is therefore not repeated, is given following the table of contents. This list links the Year Book with its predecessors and indicates the extent to which the Year Book

Our Canadian troops did not complain on the Dieppe beach of the sacrifice they were making. They went in there fighting against an enemy well prepared; they were willing to die for your freedom. Compared to them, you are asked for little indeed. A few dollars lent to Canada—backed by the resources of all Canada; a few dollars loaned to your country to buy your own personal freedom and security.

Hitler and Hirohito have Great Plans for Canada

• Yes, all Canada's great resources—her minerals, her wheat fields, her forests, her factories... could be put to wonderful use by the ruthless bullies from Germany, by the polite little savages from Japan.

And Canada's boundless acres would provide plenty of living room... for the Germans and the Japs.

But what of the Canadians? The answer is simple when you think what happened and is still happening to the Poles, the Greek, the Yugo-Slavs—and all the others... in terms of slow starvation, slave labor, mass executions.

Every time a hard working Canadian man or woman buys a Victory Bond, the plans of Hitler and Hirohito receive a set-back. The more you save and lend... the more certain you help make it that our enemies shall never put their greedy claws on Canada.

WHEN A MAN BUYS A HOME...

WHEN a man wants a home, he saves for it. It matters little whether it is a home or a car or what comfort or luxury you have your heart set on, you expect to deny yourself other things in order to get it. Today, all Canada is saving for a home. Unless we do save, we'll lose all right to a home, as we know it. Under Hitler, conquered people have no rights. Every dollar spent needlessly today gives Hitler a better chance to take away your right to enjoy the luxuries that a free Canada can give you tomorrow.

Your dollars saved and invested in the New Victory Bonds work two ways for you:

Victory Bond dollars help in the fight now for your right to the things you want.

Victory Bond dollars will provide the cash for you to get what you want when the war is won.

What are a few luxuries now, compared to the years of freedom that only Victory can make possible?

BOYSCOUT COLUMN

1st Kelowna Troop
Troop First
Self Last!

19th October, 1942.
Orders for week commencing Friday, October 23, 1942.

Duties: Orderly Patrol for week, Owls, next for duty, Eagles.

Hallies: The Troop will rally at the Scout Hall on Tuesday, October 27, at 7.15 p.m.

Attendance: There are still several Scouts on our roll who have not yet attended a rally this fall. Notices will be sent to them this week that, unless they appear before the Court of Honor on Tuesday, October 27, and are able to give satisfactory reasons for their non-attendance, they will be struck off the roll. This will probably reduce our strength still further, but it is quite useless to have Scouts on the roll on whom we cannot depend to answer the call of a rally. We need to know definitely who we have in the Troop, so that we can arrange our Patrols.

Tests: Last Tuesday we had another Mile at Scout's Pace test and the following passed: Scouts George Stubbs, Gordon Carlson, Donnie Catchpole and Lyle Horner. Scout George Stubbs also passed his Second Class Fire-lighting and Cooking test before Assistant Scoutmaster Crozier on October 20th.

On Saturday next, October 24, there will be a hike for the 1st Pack of Wolf Cubs and as many of our Scouts as are able to attend, from the Scout Hall at 2.30 p.m. Bring bicycles and suppers.

SECOND KELOWNA SCOUTS

Orders for week ending October 24th:

The Troop will rally at the Scout Hall, Wednesday, October 21, at 7.30 sharp.

Duty Patrol for week beginning October 22: Wolves, followed by Eagles. Duties: Patrol Leaders will arrive at Scout Hall, open doors and be sure that all equipment likely to be used is on hand ready for immediate use.

This is the first official write-up of the 2nd Kelowna Troop for the coming season.

The annual summer camp was held at Beaver Lake, with twelve boys attending, the small number making it impossible to have an official camp.

Transportation to and from camp was supplied by Mr. J. W. Hughes, to whom the Troop owes a debt of gratitude. Were it not for the kind donation of Mr. Hughes' trucks, our camp would have been a very sorry affair.

After a week of hiking and fishing and passing Second Class tests, the boys returned home a much happier and more contented lot.

A second summer camp was also held at Beaver Lake, with only six boys attending. This was a short two-day camp, mostly attended by boys interested in fishing.

The Troop has been very active in supplying boys for the Hostess Club during the summer months and early fall. Each Patrol has one week-end every six weeks, and was responsible for two boys every four hours when needed. The Scouts enjoyed their war work and are looking forward to the day when their services once again will be required.

In the past few months, the Scouts have collected about 5,000 medicine bottles, so urgently needed by the Vernon Military Hospital. If any reader of this column has any such bottles, would they kindly phone 486-L1 or 81 and a Scout will call. In the past a few people left names but not where bottles could be located, and it made it rather awkward to try to find any one home to give bottles to the Scouts.

The Boy Scout salvage of rubber is mounting very fast, and the total collection amounts to about three tons of scrap rubber, which is stored at present in the Jenkins barn. A lorry or truck would come in most handy in the collection of any such salvage. If any one wishing to help the Scouts in this regard, in spite of gas and tire rationing, would they please phone 486-L1 or 81 and their kind offer will be most gratefully accepted.

The lawn at the Scout Hall took a severe beating last week, when hordes of young and old people continued to wander all over it. It is a shame after the way the Scouts worked to make it a beauty spot instead of an eyesore, but a Scout smiles and whistles under all difficulties.

The Scouts took part in last week's Victory Loan parade, held on Saturday evening. The night was rather chilly, especially for boys in shorts, but this little hardship was nothing compared to the hardships our older brother Scouts are going through for us. And we hope some day in a much greater way that we may also help this Canada of ours by doing a bigger share to win this war. The Scouts of today are the men of tomorrow, and we hope that the Scouts of our Troop will be men of whom Canada can be proud.

The official strength of the Troop is now 30 Scouts, with 10 Tenderfoot probationers. Most of the older boys have left the Troop, seeking new and more exciting fields to conquer. Some have joined the R.C. A.F., including our Acting Assistant Scoutmaster, Mike Lesmeister, one has taken up shipyard work and the rest are doing their war work in different jobs around the community.

The third annual show of the 2nd Kelowna Troop is well under way, the biggest and best item being the Okanagan Valley pie-eating contest, with Scouts from all over the Valley taking part. Also featured on the program will be marching, first aid, signalling, tumbling, boxing matches, relays and skits. Also featured on the program for the first time on any Kelowna stage will be the new and latest song hit, "I Heard The Birds." Don't miss our new, bigger and better third annual Scout show.

No one can rightly say "I can't afford it," when asked to buy Victory Bonds. You can't afford to let the Axis win, for this is a war

NOTHING SHORT OF MURDER

If We Fail to Supply Soldiers With Tools of War Says J. R. Beale

"We will be nothing short of murderers if we fail to supply those men who are willing to give their lives for us with the necessary supplies for them to fight the good fight," said J. R. Beale at a dinner of the canvassers and citizens committee of the War Finance Committee at the Royal Anne, on Saturday night. The dinner was a Dutch treat affair and was held to give the canvassers a final send-off for the Third Victory Loan campaign.

Mr. Beale and O. L. Jones gave short but inspiring pep talks to the canvassers and committee members. Mr. Beale held that loaning every cent one could borrow or beg to the Government should not be classed as a sacrifice, as it was a poor thing in comparison with the sacrifices being made by the local men in the three fighting services, and a patriot in the light of the sacrifices made by the people of Coventry, the families of our merchant seamen and others.

"The time for us who stay at home to continue to do things NOW," said Mr. Beale. "It is time for less hoping and more doing."

Alderman Jones told the fifty persons present that we are in a deny that we are in a plight today. The news is not good. It has been retreat, retreat, retreat. But we have finally touched the bottom and now we are in a fight. The British people fight best when they have their backs to the wall. We have been sitting back smugly and content and have refused to recognize the cold fact that we may lose all that we have, homes, businesses, loved ones, our lives, even. If ever support for our armed forces was needed, it is now.

The least we who stay at home can do is to lend our spare money to assist the war effort. The fate of Europe is destined for Canada. The Japanese have had their eyes on British Columbia for many years.

"We must come to a realization that we are in danger of losing this dear and precious land of ours and our heritage, steeped in tradition and noble things. Do you love and value this land which has given you home, peace, comfort, freedom and liberty? If you do—then, my God, fight for it. At least, you can give yourselves enough to make the easiest of all sacrifices, the purchase of Victory Bonds."

The meeting was under the chairmanship of C. E. B. chairman of the Kelowna War Finance Committee, who stated that this loan would be the real test of the people of Kelowna. He expressed the conviction that if the people really understood the position, there would never be a doubt but that the local and national quotas would be oversubscribed within a few hours. "If we can get the message across to the people, they will respond," he held.

STUDENTS AT RUTLAND RESUME STUDIES

Pupils and Teachers Joined Forces to Pick Macs and Save Crops—Some Students Still Working

Rutland High School reopened on Monday, October 19, after being closed down completely since early in September to permit the pupils to assist in the harvesting of the apple crop. The classes are still considerably below their full enrollment, as many of the students are employed in the local packing houses and some in orchards with late varieties, and will not return to school until the end of October. The two senior Public School grades reopened the Tuesday previous, but even in these grades (VII and VIII) there are many absences.

Without the co-operation of the pupils of the High and Public schools, it is doubtful if the large crop of Macs in the district could have been harvested successfully. Many of the teachers also assisted with the picking while their classrooms were closed. The majority of the growers are now through picking, or in the final stages.

Mrs. G. Smith, of Vancouver, is visiting her daughter-in-law, having sold their farm opposite the home of Mrs. Esther Cumming. "Dave" is on furlough following a successful appendix operation. The illness prevented him from leaving with his unit of the Canadian Signal Corps for overseas, but he expects to rejoin them later.

Miss Margaret Bassett, of Vancouver, was the guest of Mrs. Pauline Smith for the Thanksgiving week-end and part of the week following.

The local United Church was tastefully and appropriately decorated with fruits, flowers and products of the field on Sunday last for the celebration of "Harvest Home." A special service was being with the occasion was delivered by the pastor, Rev. J. A. Petrie, and Mrs. H. Glenn, of Kelowna, favored the congregation with a special Thanksgiving solo.

Johnny Dillman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Dillman, recently joined the R.C.A.F.

Ladies of the Rutland Women's Institute processed a large quantity of tree-ripened apples at the Community Hall kitchen one day last week, making most of the fruit into jam for shipment to the Old Country, through the Red Cross.

Special Thanksgiving services were held at the local Anglican church, St. Adan's, on Sunday afternoon, October 19. Ven. Archdeacon D. Catchpole, of Kelowna, conducting. The church was very attractively decorated for the occasion with fruit, flowers, etc.

Fifty-Eight Win Certificates In War Savings Sweep

Six Hundred and Five Dollars
Distributed in October
Sweep Drawn This Week

Fifty-eight War Savings Certificates ranging from fifty to five dollars and totalling $605 were distributed in the tenth monthly War Savings Sweep conducted by the casual sales committee of the Kelowna and District War Finance Committee. The drawing was held on Tuesday, October 20th, over CK O.V. with Colin Oliphant, Kelowna unit organizer of the Victory Loan, making the draw.

Had one more certificate gone outside the Kelowna area, exactly half would have been won by people not in this area.

One familiar name was missing from the list this time. Jim Quong, the outstanding seller of the sweep, failed to win the money in either the seller's or the buyer's sections for almost the first time during the entire ten sweeps.

One of the fifty dollar certificates came to the Kelowna area, exactly half would have been won by people not in this area.

One familiar name was missing from the list this time. Jim Quong, the outstanding seller of the sweep, failed to win the money in either the seller's or the buyer's sections for almost the first time during the entire ten sweeps.

The $25.00 seller's prize went to Mrs. A. L. Smith, of Grindrod, while the two $10.00 seller's certificates went to Miss Christie Burt, of Kelowna, and J. Cope, of Kelowna. The two $5.00 seller's certificates went to George Benmore and Lynn Watt, of Kelowna.

The committee reports that a $25 certificate won by "Mr. G. Kee" in the March sweep has been reported from Ottawa as being not delivered as the person is unknown. This ticket was purchased at Hall's Store at Red's Corners and the purchaser is unknown. It is thought that he is a Chinese man, but this is not definite.

Last month a ticket was drawn and the winning could not be deciphered. Any persons having information about these persons should convey it to W. McGill, at Willis Drug Store.

It is emphasized that the entire money received in this draw goes directly to the government through War Savings and so assists the war effort.

The November sweep will be drawn on Tuesday, November 24th. The winners of the October sweep in detail were:

APPLE CAR MINIMUM INCREASED

But Carload Shipments to Country Points Remain Unchanged

Transport Controller T. C. Lockwood has issued an order suspending the use of railroad refrigerator equipment which is of vital importance to the fruit and vegetable industry.

This order or requirement directs that the carload minimum on apples to certain designated distribution points be increased from 35,000 lbs. which is the apple minimum on and after September 30th, to 42,000 lbs. Concurrently, the minimum on certain types of vegetables, on for example, increases to 40,000 lbs. from 35,000 lbs.

Respecting the movement of apples, this will necessitate the loading of 840 boxes in wrapped grades, 857 in unwrapped wooden boxes and 934 unwrapped in the cardboard carton pack. It is doubtful when using the ordinary type of refrigerator car if some of these requirements can be met, particularly in respect to the movement of apples in fibre boxes, as the cubic space is unlikely to permit the stacking and loading of 934 fibre type packages. In this event, it is the present understanding that carriers' local agents will be allowed to accept railroad billings endorsed, "Loaded to full practical capacity."

The effect of this decree should not mutually disturb apple distribution, as increases are operative only on traffic destined to larger centres. Carload shipping to country points remains unaltered. Numerous carriers' local agents will be allowed to accept railroad billings endorsed, "Loaded to full practical capacity."

Much heavier penalty payments than have been in effect previously concerning demurrage are also affected by Transport Controller Lockwood's recent order. For failure to load or unload refrigerator cars within certain prescribed time limits, demurrage costs pyramid to $5.00 for the first 24 hours, $10.00 for the second 24 hours and $15.00 for the third and each succeeding 24 hours or any portion thereof.

of the Okanagan but their capacity is small, while Bulman's, of Vernon, is tied up with dehydrating onions and other vegetables.

W. Vance, manager of the K.G.E., expressed satisfaction with the new price and stated that his plant had been running to capacity throughout the season in the hope that the price structure would be rectified. Already about 160,000 pounds have been processed and the plant will continue to run at capacity.

When war broke out the United States lost its export market, as Germany was the world's largest consumer. This sent U.S. prices tobogganing and Canadian prices were forced to follow suit. The Canadian public is now more receptive to this product and therefore the domestic consumption is small.

However, lend-lease entered the picture, the U. S. markets found a ready outlet and Canadian firms were enabled to dispose of their stocks at a fairly satisfactory price of about ten cents per pound for standard grade.

However, the domestic price had remained at about eight cents and, when this ceiling was established, Canadian plants were told that their basic price on evaporated apples would be that figure.

Since that time, Canadian processors have been complaining bitterly that such a price was ridiculous and that processors could not afford to pay a cent for their apples to the producers at that figure. They also pointed out that the United States price for the same product was about 17 1/2 cents.

As most of the Canadian output will be needed in this country this year for the armed forces and domestic consumption, Ottawa finally admitted the justice of the manufacturers' position, and on Tuesday the increased basic prices were announced.

At reception is good and people are well informed and keen to help. Interest is also shown by the manner in which the passersby scrutinize the steadily climbing "blood" on the dagger in front of the Post Office.

All available information pointed to the fact that Kelowna was off to a much better start than other Interior cities. While Kelowna reported $44,750 on Monday, the Vernon unit only reported to divisional headquarters $3,960, while Penticon reported $40,000, $20,000 of that amount being the subscription of the Penticon Municipality.

Final figures released late Wednesday night from division headquarters indicate that Kelowna has during the first three days subscribed more than twice as much as Penticon, the second ranking city in the division. Penticon has $66,750, while Kamloops trails with $64,850, and Vernon with $42,450.

The Wednesday night figures as released by division headquarters, with quota in brackets, are: Revelstoke, ($125,000), $24,250; Salmon Arm, ($120,000), $21,950; Ennisville, ($100,000), $19,950; Armstrong, ($75,000), $15,000; Kamloops, ($75,000), $15,000; Kelowna, ($385,000), $128,450; Summerland, ($105,000), $6,250; Penticon, ($345,000), $66,750; Oliver, ($57,500), $6,500; Osoyoos, ($17,500), $1,750; Penticton, ($70,000), not reported; Keremnos, ($20,000), $1,750; Princeton, ($175,000), $21,100; Kamloops, ($385,000), $64,850; North Thompson, ($40,000), $1,700; Merritt, not reported; Ashcroft, ($75,000), $4,300; Clinton, not reported; Golden, ($65,000), $1,000; Field, ($25,000), not reported. Total, ($2,555,000), $402,700.

APPLE CROP SHOWS SHARP REDUCTION

McIntosh Prices Are Increased
—Delicious Opened Yesterday

The apple crop has suffered a drastic reduction from the estimates, it is now known. The reduction has been caused by extremely dry weather over a long period, causing heavy drop and cooling moth activities. The crop is also running to very small sizes.

The McIntosh crop figure is now reduced, and being considerably below the estimated 2,300,000 boxes. Similarly, Jonathans have been packing out at a rate which would indicate a reduction of about thirty per cent in the 900,000 box estimate.

All varieties since Wealthies are experiencing a packout considerably below that estimated. During the week ending Saturday last 27 cars were shipped, of which only 57 went on Monday and 59 on Tuesday of this week. The week's shipments were about 75 cars less than the previous week, better than the general picture of the filling up of markets. Shipments to Eastern Canada have been curtailed sharply during the past ten days.

A price advance on fancy McIntosh was made on Wednesday (yesterday). This amounted to ten cents a box on 100's and smaller, bringing the price to $1.35. The larger sizes remain the same as formerly.

Delicious opened on Canada on Wednesday with the opening prices set at $1.75 for extras, $1.50 for standard and $1.25 for cee grade. There has been considerable activity in the price market since then. The Utah variety is now $2.25, while the white ranges from $1.75 for the 18 inch, 50 pound crate, to $2.00 for the 21 inch, 60 pound crate.

P'Anjou pears are almost finished, packing out at about 45,000 boxes. A few tail-end Hyslop crabs turned up in the Salmon Arm district, but buyers are extremely scarce. They also pointed out that the United States price for the same product was about 17 1/2 cents.

As most of the Canadian output will be needed in this country this year for the armed forces and domestic consumption, Ottawa finally admitted the justice of the manufacturers' position, and on Tuesday the increased basic prices were announced.

District 4, G. Ellis, Canvasser: North to Mill Creek; south to north side of Birch Avenue; west to lake shore; east to west side of Richter Street.

District 5, Ian MacLaren, Canvasser: South from south side of Birch Avenue to Gyro Park; west from Richter Street to lake shore; north to Mill Creek; south to Rosedale Avenue; west to east side of Richter Street; east to city limits.

District 6, C. L. Horner, Canvasser: North, road from Lake to Okanagan Centre to Petrie's Corner, on Woods Lake; from Petrie's Corner along dividing line between North and South Okanagan Electoral Districts; south, a line drawn from Kelowna city limits due east as far as settlement exists, along Rutland road; east, end of settlement; west, Okanagan Lake and city limits of Kelowna area.

The films shown by the National Film Board in the Community Hall last Monday night drew a large attendance.

The first picture, "Wings Over World Wonders," a University extra, was a pre-war film showing some wonderful shots of some of the wonders of the world. A few of the interesting places shown were the Grand Canyon, Niagara Falls, the Pyramids, Mount Vesuvius, the Alps, Golden Gate Bridge, Shanghai, Trafalgar Square, the Empire State Building and Fujiyama.

The second picture, "The Honey Bee," a school example from the U.B.C., was intensely interesting. "Teeland on the Prairies," a National Film Board official film, was in technicolor and showed the descendants of the original Icelandic settlers around Winnipeg.

"We March Together" was especially a Victory Loan campaign. After this picture, a short address was given by H. C. S. Collett on the Victory Loan campaign.

"Not Peace But a Sword," a U.B.C. Extension picture, showed the unpreparedness of Britain and Poland before the war.

The wedding of Gordon Baldwin, only son of Mr. and Mrs. St. G. P. Baldwin, to Elizabeth Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peterson, of Spokane, Wash., took place on Friday, October 9th, at 8:30 p.m., in Spokane. Canon Livingstone, of St. Andrew's Cathedral, officiated.

After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. G. Baldwin left for Kallispel, Montana, where the honeymoon was spent. They are residing at 1111 West 12th Street, Spokane.

Word has been received from Sapper Jack Bradley, R.C.E., of his forthcoming marriage on October 24th, in Sunderland, England.

Mrs. C. Gauvin will leave for the Coast on Friday, October 23, to spend a holiday with friends.

Owing to difficulties of transportation and in order to cover the district to enable workers to attend, it has been decided to hold the Red Cross sewing bees at the homes of Mrs. J. Horn and Mrs. F. Smallidon, under the supervision of Mrs. H. John and Mrs. R. Stubbs. These meetings will be held on Thursdays at 2:00 p.m. It is hoped that by these arrangements more workers will find it possible to give this one afternoon a week to help increase the very worthy work, and thus augment the output of work from Okanagan Mission.

1st Okanagan Mission Boy Scouts
Orders for week commencing Friday, October 23:
Duties: Orderly Patrol for week, Fox.

1st Okanagan Mission Wolf Cubs
The Pack will meet at the Scout Hall on Friday, October 23, at 3:15 p.m.

RED CROSS CORPS HEADS HERE NEXT SATURDAY

Visit of Provincial Chairman and Commandant Part of Recruiting Campaign—May Use Members at Hospital

Two members of the Canadian Red Cross Corps, Provincial headquarters staff, will visit Kelowna next Saturday in connection with the present province-wide recruiting campaign. They are Mrs. R. C. J. deSage, Reg. N., Provincial Commandant, and Mrs. W. J. Allan, C.B.E., Provincial Chairman.

In addition to recruiting for the Corps the visiting staff members will review the situation in regard to voluntary aid nursing by Corps members. It is understood that use of C.R.C.C. members for short term duty in the Kelowna Hospital is contemplated. A number of the members have taken three years nursing instruction as part of their training and could give useful assistance a few hours a day at the hospital, which is understaffed at the present time.

The local Canadian Red Cross Corps needs approximately 25 recruits to bring the units up to strength and to enable the Corps to carry on the valuable work they have done in the past. The Corps affords specialized training in many lines for its members so that they can help out in a constructive way in the war effort.

RELIEF

DEPARTMENT WIPED OUT

Is Now Social Assistance Branch—Zone Headquarters Here—F. B. Hassard Regional Supervisor

In common with other offices of the department, the local office of the Unemployment Relief Branch of the British Columbia Department of Labor has undergone considerable reorganization during the past few days.

Actually the branch itself has been wiped out and the service discontinued. The entire staff of the local office has been transferred to the Social Assistance Branch of the Provincial Secretary's Department, and will continue to operate under its jurisdiction.

Henceforth there will be no aid forthcoming to any employable person. To obtain financial assistance persons must present a medical certificate that they are permanently or temporarily unemployed.

The province has been divided into five zones, and Zone 3, which includes much of the Interior, has its headquarters in Kelowna. F. G. Hassard, formerly of Vancouver, has been appointed Regional Supervisor and has located in this city. He is in charge of the zone, which includes the provincial electoral ridings of South Okanagan, North Okanagan, Similkameen, Yale, Lillooet, Kamloops, Salmon Arm and Revelstoke. Social welfare and old age pensions will be administered from this office.

E. W. Griffith, former Relief Administrator, Victoria, has been appointed Assistant Deputy Provincial Secretary and head of the Welfare Department, Social Assistance Branch, and eventually will also be in charge of old age pensions.

Mrs. Len Hill, Peachland, was a visitor in Kelowna on Wednesday.

J. S. Kennedy, Montreal, is a guest of the Royal Anne Hotel this week.

Norman E. Day Fatally Shot In Hunting Accident On Squilax Mtn.

Hunting Companion Mistakes Sorrento Sportsman For Sheep—Funeral Services Held Yesterday

Kelowna was shocked on Monday to learn of the death of Norman Edward Day, of Sorrento, who succumbed en route to hospital at Salmon Arm last Sunday night, after being accidentally shot on Squilax Mountain by Dr. Freese, dentist, of Republic, Wash.

Dr. Freese and his wife had been staying at the Day shooting lodge on Sorrento for some time, and Day and his guest were out on Sunday in a last effort to secure a mountain sheep. About four o'clock in the afternoon, they were trailing some sheep and heard them going through a patch of trees. Day told the doctor to keep on the trail while he made his way around the trees to the other side.

Shortly afterwards, according to Dr. Freese, he climbed a low ridge and, looking through some trees, he saw what he thought were the curved horns of a large sheep. The horns moved slightly and he raised his rifle and fired, only to find, when he went to see the result of his shot, that he had mistaken Day's raised arms for the horns of a sheep.

The shot travelled over 400 feet and entered the stricken man's left hip. His companion did what he could to help him, but he could not get him down the mountain for assistance.

A stretcher party, accompanied by a doctor, reached the scene of the accident at 10 p.m., and the badly injured man was hurried to the Salmon Arm Hospital. Unfortunately, the wound had caused serious internal bleeding, and he passed away shortly after midnight.

Shortly after 11 p.m. Game Warden Maxson at thequest, held at Salmon Arm last Tuesday, showed that Norman Day had been in the act of rolling a cigarette at the time he was shot. It is presumed that he had raised his arms while holding the tobacco and paper in both hands, and seen through the trees, the raised arms were mistaken for the horns of a sheep.

Unfortunately, Day was not wearing a red coat or shirt, but merely had a bit of red on his hat. This and the effort to secure a sheep, which he had been unable to get during a week's hunt.

Funeral services for the late Norman E. Day were held on Wednesday afternoon at 2 p.m. at the Methodist Church, officiated by Rev. Dr. W. W. McPherson officiating, with interment in the Kelowna Cemetery. The pallbearers were A. L. Patterson, H. A. Trussell, E. A. Murchison, Evan Lucas, W. Rankin and P. Rankin.

The deceased was born in Vernon December 29, 1890, and had spent most of his life in Kelowna, where his family settled some years ago. He was prominent in insurance circles for many years, and about five years ago he moved to Sorrento, where he operated a fishing and shooting lodge. His place was a mecca for big game hunters, and many of his friends in Kelowna have captured fine heads under his guidance.

He is survived by his wife, two sons, Fred and Albert, and three daughters, Muriel, Doris, Wilma and Norma. His father, E. A. Day, resides in Kelowna. Four brothers, Fred, George, Lloyd and William, and one sister, Mrs. (Mrs. R. Calvert) are also living.

VALLEY FIRMS PACK JUICE Three Plants to Fill 32,000 Case Order

Three Valley apple juice plants will jointly fill an order for 32,000 cartons of juice for the Department of Munitions and Supply this fall. Modern Foods Division of the K.G.E., the Vernon Fruit Union and the Co-operative Processors' Association, of Oliver, are the firms concerned.

It was announced last fall that no more cases would be available for apple juice and the manufacturers agreed to reduce the number of cases available, but that these should be used for juice for the services. Three weeks ago, Valley firms were asked to tender on a contract for 55,000 cartons. This amount was reduced subsequently to 32,000, and the contract was divided between three of the four Valley firms.

Miss Muriel Gregory, Victoria, was a visitor in Kelowna during the early part of this week.

LOYD REVIEWS TRIP EAST

Outlines Results of Discussions With Various Government Departments

A. K. Loyd, President of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., who returned from Ottawa last week, has outlined for The Courier the matters discussed with various government departments.

The position in regard to the availability of lumber and supplies for making containers for the apple crop in 1943 is as follows: While lumber will definitely be set aside in sufficient quantities for the manufacture of containers, it is difficult for the Steel Controller to make any definite commitments in regard to nails, wire, fasteners, etc., so far ahead as six or eight months, in view of the restricted supplies which can be drawn upon. Further negotiations are going forward in this respect, and Mr. Dalton, of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and Mr. E. J. Chambers, who will be in Ottawa shortly, will prosecute further inquiries, particularly in regard to necessary replacement of machinery in the sawmills.

In company with a delegate from Creston, the position in the Creston, Kootenay and Grand Forks areas was discussed, their situation in relation to production this year being extremely bad. This matter was discussed at length with Department of Agriculture officials, and probably some action, yet to be decided upon, will be designed to give them some assistance.

Some further arrangements were made for extra destination storage space at Montreal.

Unloadings In Transit The matter of unloadings in transit, which has been under consideration by the Transport Controller, was taken up further, but it seems to be entirely unlikely that this concession will be granted, at least this year. A partial assistance for shipments to Prairie points will be included in the orders of the Controller, allowing the old car minimum instead of the new increased one for shipments to country points in the three Prairie Provinces.

Army Apple Ceiling An attempt was made to revise the present policy in regard to the ceiling for apples placed on shipments to Military Camps by the authorities. It is believed that the arrangements in this regard will be favorably improved in the near future.

South American Export South American export was also the subject of a discussion with the Shipping Priorities Board and others, and various difficulties, due to war conditions, examined at length and progress accomplished.

While in the East, opportunity arose for limited quantities of canned apples to be manufactured by the British Columbia for specialized uses of the Services, and this also applied to a limited quantity of apple juice. It was possible to finalize these matters while in the East. The present policy of the Controller of Services was obtained for the cold storage rates agreed upon by the operators in the Okanagan Valley for the current year. This was due to the approval of the Department of Agriculture, which it is expected will be forthcoming almost immediately.

Sugar Considerable time was devoted to canvassing the sugar rationing requirements in their relation to the fruit industry. It was admitted on all sides that the voucher system instituted by the Rationing Board had not functioned satisfactorily, and that very considerable abuse had been made of it in many quarters. The Rationing Board were profoundly dissatisfied with the advance which had been taken of their attempt to assist the fruit industry by allowing a further ration during the early apple and late soft fruit season. This was designed to encourage putting up a quantity of home canned fruit, and while this undoubtedly had taken place, advantage had been taken of the rationing to lay in supplies of sugar for purposes other than those for which it was intended.

The application for an increased ration of sugar to be applied to the excess of fruit during the balance of the season was eventually refused by the Sugar Control, who based their refusal on two points; the first one being that the public had been given a warning that after September 30th the increased sugar ration would be reduced, again to normal, and that it lay with them to utilize the available supplies granted to them at that time, and that they could not expect the prolongation of the concession beyond the stated date.

Secondly, that a request for an increased sugar ration for fruit would really have the effect of a general increase in the over-all quantity, since fruit was so largely available to everyone within the Dominion, and they felt that they were not justified at that time in committing themselves to what would amount to a general increase. It is hoped that the matter may be reviewed further before very long.

WASH FEATHER PILLOWS EASILY When feather pillows get soiled after much use, don't hesitate to wash them just as they are, without bothering to transfer the feathers to a linen bag. First cut a slit about four inches long at one end of the pillow, and sew a square of muslin securely over the slit. This lets the sudsy water in and out effectively. One pillow at a time in the washing machine gives best results. Use extra heavy lukewarm suds so the feathers will be soft and pliable. If the water becomes soapy or the bubbles go flat, mix fresh suds. Bad spots on the cover may be rubbed with a brush. Rinse three or four times in tepid water, wring out the excess moisture. Hang carefully by two corners and change position during drying to help restore the fluffiness of the feathers.

attended the dance at the Aquatic on June 1940, at which this orchestra played. Thus it is not only a dance band it has had no peer in the Interior in many years. The men like to play and they play hot and often and long.

The dance is strictly a non-profit affair. It is being run by the public relations committee of the local War Finance Committee and a small charge is being made to defray the cost of the band while here. As the Navy Band is coming here under the sponsorship of the War Finance Committee, it is only right that War Savings Stamps should play a part in the admission to the dance. There is no charge for the band concert, however.

Incidentally, the War Savings Stamps will be kept by each person. There will be no raffle at the dance as has been held in the past. The idea is to make the dance admission as reasonable as possible and the returning of the one stamp with admission ticket reduces the net cost of attending the dance to only twenty-five cents per person.

The I.O.O.F. Hall has been secured by the local committee at the very minimum rate. Even this will be paid in War Savings Stamps.

The band will be billeted in the new quarters at 700 H arranged by the Canadian Red Cross Corps. There will be certain expenses in connection with the billet, for instance, laundry. These, however, are being kept at a minimum.

The C.R.C.C. have also agreed to provide the meals for the band and are charging only a nominal sum to cover the cost of their actual monetary outlay.

As this is purely a war effort, all organizations and individuals are co-operating to reduce expenses to the very minimum. Under these

Peachland Man Makes Wooden Tires For Use On Farm Truck

J. Stump Gets Good Wear Out of Substitute — Peachland Still Awaits Power Plant Equipment

Wooden automobile and truck tires are one answer to the current rubber shortage, believes J. Stump, the Peachland inventor of a wooden tire. Made of native pine and fir, the tires have been tested and proved practical by their use on his own truck.

When faced with the possibility of laying off his own truck owing to poor tires, Mr. Stump conceived the idea of a wooden substitute for a rubber tire. Through his knowledge as carpenter he believed that with proper construction, a wooden tire was feasible and he proceeded to build a set of tires for the back wheels of his truck. First he tested the tires by ordinary driving. Then he drove his truck loaded to capacity with wood. Finally he put the Ford Model A truck over the road at its top speed of 45 m.p.h. The tires held up amazingly well.

"The tires were tougher and noisier than the regular rubber ones," commented Mr. Stump.

The construction of the tire is relatively simple. It is composed of nine layers of wood which are composed of 4 pieces of wood which are placed into a sphere. The nine layers are fastened together by water proof glue and then bolted by 12 bolts. To give the tire the utmost strength, the two outside layers and the middle are placed so that the movement is on the flat grain of the wood, prolonging the life of the tire. The other five layers fill out the body of the tire and act as washers between the three most important layers. The tire has a tread like the ordinary rubber one, and there is no difference to the casual glance with the exception of the bolts. When completed, the tire is bolted solidly on to the rim of the wheel and is ready for use.

"I noticed very little difference in the traction of the wooden tires and they stood up well in braking," Mr. Stump said. He has driven the tires some hundreds of miles. The tread is still good and small stones which have worked into the wood provide a more lasting running base than the wood itself.

When rubber becomes still more scarce, and motorists will be forced to try anything to keep their cars operating, Mr. Stump claims he is prepared to produce wooden tires in quantity. With his present limited equipment, he can turn one out in an hour himself. Mr. Stump states he has completed plans for a new machine and assembly line technique which will vastly increase his productive capacities in numbers and varieties of tires, when and if needed.

Delay in getting the new semi-automatic equipment for the power house is causing some anxiety to the Municipal Council, it was disclosed at their meeting on Wednesday evening, October 14. This new machinery, which will provide a twenty-four hour service, was ordered as soon as the by-law approving it was passed by the people last April, but no word of its installation has yet been received. At the present time the power plant is being run all day as well as the usual night run, to provide power for the Walter's Ltd. packing house.

Councillor J. H. Wilson, in discussing light problems, spoke of the inspection which he had ordered of all poles in the district last spring. As far as he knew, this had been done.

Reeve E. F. Gummow urged the importance of having the pole line in good shape, as a pole line falling across a highway might cause serious damage.

An application for timber was received from Dan Cousins, who has built a road that would allow the timber above the dam on the Equestrian property to be taken out. It was decided to sell this timber at $2.50 per thousand to the applicant, but the wood on the lot adjoining the Morsh and Verne Nelson properties is to be put up for tender.

A complaint was received from the School Board regarding children being bitten by police dogs in the district. It was pointed out by Councillor A. J. Chidley that a by-law covered this, and that police dogs were not supposed to be allowed to run loose. Constable Hemmingsway was given this complaint to investigate and take action, if necessary.

Permission was refused a Japanese woman to come to Peachland to live with her daughter. She is at present in Kaslo, and the Council did not feel that they wanted any more Japanese in the district.

The approaches to the highway through town were once again the subject of criticism. In every case the surfacing of the highway is being broken away because of poor approaches. It was decided to approach the District Engineer to have the road fixed so that the hard surfacing should not be damaged.

Complaints were sent in about cows running loose in the Trepanier district, and the by-law is to be enforced strictly.

ISLEY TALKS OF THE WAR ON WASTE

Says Government Generally Trying to Avoid Wasting Money But Action Sometimes More Important

"In asking you to economize in business and private life," said Hon. J. L. Isley, Minister of Finance, in a recent speech, "I anticipate being asked: 'What is the Government doing to economize and avoid waste?'"

"We are doing a good job on the whole but we are not all perfect. In any enterprise as big as our program, there is bound to be some waste, but I hope any instances of waste will be brought to my attention, and when they are, I shall have them investigated, and, if true, corrected."

"This, however, is an understatement of the effort which is being made to secure economy in government today."

"There are charges of waste and extravagance founded on ignorance and carelessness, stated in generalities or based upon false rumors of specific instances."

"Time after time we are blamed for waste when there may be good economic or other reasons for making the expenditure which far outweighs the cost itself. And differences on policy are inevitable, even in wartime."

"In the case of war expenditures we have an enormous organization built up very quickly, required to spend vast sums—and we demand from it action, and quick action. I am not surprised that there are occasionally instances of waste, etc. My colleagues and their senior officers do a thorough and conscientious job of preventing it."

"To prevent waste by control from above required regulations—and producing what everyone knows as red tape. Obviously there is a limit to the amount of this we can afford when quick action is of paramount importance."

"In war matters, getting action is often more important than getting value. In controlling war expenditures our problem is to get both."

Before you go to bed place a small piece of the egg-skin just over the foreign body, and put on a bandage to keep it in place. Leave it on twelve hours at least, longer if something is deeply imbedded, and after a while you will find that it has been drawn to the surface and can be removed with tweezers. Don't put a large piece of egg-skin over the wound, if the object to be drawn out is in a finger or toe, as the skin tightens when it dries, which may prove uncomfortable.

MISS S. SPEIGHT, OKAN. CENTRE PASSES AWAY

Deceased Was Born in Yorkshire in 1869 and Lived in District for Twenty-Two Years—Active in Women's Institute

Miss Sybil Speight, for twenty-two years a resident of Okanagan Centre, passed away on Thursday, October 15th, at "Cambria," after a brief illness.

A funeral service, conducted by the Rev. A. R. Lett, was held at the home, interment following in the Kelowna Cemetery.

Miss Speight was born in Wakefield, Yorkshire, England, in 1869, and early in 1920 she arrived with her three sisters at the Centre, where they have since resided.

She was an active member of the Women's Institute, and there is scarcely a family in the community that has not experienced her gentle kindness. "She hath done what she could."

Besides a host of friends, three sisters are left to mourn her passing, Mrs. D. Morris, of Vancouver, and the Misses Gertrude and Maude Speight, at the Centre.

Tennis A gorgeous autumn has prolonged the tennis season at the Centre beyond the annual picnic session held at the Centre club on Sunday, October 4th, when a large proportion of the members assembled in the morning with well filled baskets for lunch and enjoyed games all day.

Miss Doris Glead, of the teaching staff of the Kelowna High School, was at home for the occasion, when one of the highlights was the presentation of the Thomson trophy for women's doubles, which went to Mrs. Hare and Miss Ellen Glead.

They defeated Mrs. Brixton and Miss Harrop in the finals.

SOLDIERS CAUGHT HERE GET ONE YEAR FOR THEFT

Ptes. Finlay and Polick, of Winnipeg Light Infantry, Found Guilty of Car Theft in Vernon

Two privates from the W.L.I. from Vernon, who were arrested in Kelowna last week, appeared in the Vernon Police Court and were found guilty of theft of an automobile in Vernon, owned by Miss St. John. Ptes. J. Polick and Pte. M. Finlay, were sentenced to one year in gaol by Magistrate Morley.

Their arrest resulted from a chase by Capt. H. T. Ingram, Area Accident Investigator, who had been informed of the car's disappearance by the Kelowna police, who, in turn, had been notified by Vernon authorities.

Capt. Ingram, who was operating a motorcycle, had just reached an intersection on Bernard Avenue in Kelowna, when he noticed a vehicle which corresponded in description coming around the corner with two soldiers in the front seat. As the car took the corner, the officer recognized one man as Pte. Finlay, of his unit. He checked the licence plate number. It was the same.

Capt. Ingram immediately took up the chase. When riding alongside the car, he ordered the driver to pull over to the curb. But the car sped up, and swerved into the motorcycle, causing it to drop back.

Capt. Ingram chased the car through back streets and alleys and on two occasions stopped and asked civilians to phone the police.

Car Abandoned After Chase Finally the two soldiers abandoned the car in a resident's driveway. Both men jumped out and ran in different directions. Capt. Ingram requested the resident to phone the police. Sgt. MacDonald and one Constable immediately arrived, and investigated. Capt. Ingram returned to the police office, where he left his motorcycle, and then continued the search for the two men in the police car.

Pte. Finlay was soon found walking casually past the site of the abandoned car. At this time, the officer stated, he appeared to be in a normal condition. When asked for his pass, he produced another man's. Pte. Polick was picked up, walking along a street in the same unsuspecting manner. Both men were identified in court by their superior officer. When on the stand, Capt. Ingram stated that neither man showed evidence of having been drinking when questioned in the police court in Kelowna. He also stated that he remarked about the sum of money which was in the possession of Pte. Finlay. He also had two lighters, and in his kit, two pieces of wire.

"Thank you for the presents, Auntie. Oh, they're nothing to thank me for, Bobby."

"That's what I thought, but mother told me to thank you all the same."

HUNTERS WITH GOOD DOGS FIND BIRDS

Limit Bags Are Got by Many Pheasant Shooters But Many Birds Lost For Lack of Trained Bird Dog

The first week of pheasant shooting has resulted in limit bags being taken by many hunters each day, according to reports received. However, the old story of a good dog being needed still applies. Many a fine cock has been dropped and lost in the brush for lack of a good retriever.

The blitz over the week-end has sent the birds further afield, and hunters will have to work harder from now on for their dinners. Householders report that the number of pheasants in their back gardens has increased during the past few days as the wily birds take sanctuary within the city limits. They may not be able to read the game laws, but it doesn't take them long to realize that they can find peace from the wars in town.

Did you ever stop to think of the penalty of defeat? It means slavery, confiscation, violated homes. It means loss of all we hold most dear. Nothing matters now but victory. Buy the new Victory Bonds.

RE-ARRANGING FURNITURE AIDS POWER CONSERVATION

Everything these days emphasizes the word "sharing." With power shortage difficulties in sections of Ontario and Quebec bringing it to the fore, Canadians in these sections of the country can and must cut down on their power consumption. Actually they should reduce consumption by 20 per cent. In the picture above are two architectural drawings of the same room. The drawing on the right shows a modern living room which uses up 700 watts when its 15 lamps and lights are burning. The drawing on the left shows the same room using 10 lights with the wattage reduced by 280 watts. Any decorative lamps have either been removed or had their bulbs replaced with low wattage bulbs. Two easy chairs share the same lamp. A lamp on the desk shares its illumination with the easy chair beside it, and so on. Power conservation does not mean eyestrain, it means using common sense. This young couple are sharing the one lamp which gives adequate illumination for reading, knowing that they are helping to save electricity which will keep the war plants running at the peak of production.

NYLON USED FOR 'CHUTES

Stockings Must Take Second Place as Silk and Nylon go to Make Parachutes

Patriotic consolation for wartime absence of silk and nylon hosiery is that 138 pairs of these stockings make the equivalent of one parachute.

Another comforting factor is the presence of rayon, the manufacture of which has greatly improved and is improving all the time. Rayon stockings look well and deserve the best of care.

Two facts about rayon cannot be stressed too strongly, according to

Consumer Information Service—it takes a good twenty-four hours to dry and the fibres are very weak when wet. No process has been discovered to overcome this weakness, so washing rayon hosiery should consist only of a gentle squeezing through mild, lukewarm suds and a careful rinsing in water of the same temperature. Rubbing is apt to damage the tender, wet fibres, so any rough handling is done "at owner's risk." For this same reason, the stockings should never be worn until perfectly dry. While the feet of rayon hose are quite constant in size, the legs have a tendency to elongate. When purchasing, a couple of inches can be allowed for this stretching.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

BULK APPLES

Vancouver, B. C., October 10, 1942.
To the Editor, Kelowna Courier:
I would like to reply to Mr. Edwin Snowsall's letter re bulk Jonathans. I did not hear the broadcast referred to, but, if inferior apples have been sent, it is surely not surprising. Growers, as usual, had no say in the way their fruit was handled. It wasn't their idea to pick the fruit, haul it right to the box cars and dump it in. They, no doubt, tried to comply with Tree Fruit's rulings—they are a very obedient body—but, with help as hard to get and so much of it green, what can you expect? I have been assured by so many of our pioneers in the fruit business in the past little while that to ship out fruit, ungraded, unwashed and unsorted was quite impossible, when I suggested it as a possible way of growers getting a little more for their produce and consumers getting it a little cheaper. I also wondered just how inspectors could really inspect carload lots. Apples are not like wheat—I have seen how that is done, but with bulk, unsorted, ungraded apples, it can only be a sort of lottery. Everybody knows that one box of apples might have half culls and the next box none—that is one of the reasons they are sorted, so why blame inspectors in this case? The outcome of it will be a lot of dissatisfaction, what little faith the domestic market had in Jonathans will be gone for all time. Claims will come in and you, Mr. Grower, will foot the bill—but that is nothing new, is it?
(Mrs.) J. C. DUGLIS,
(R.R. 3, Kelowna, presently of Vancouver.)

THE ROCK CRUSHER

Kelowna, October 13, 1942.
To the Editor, Kelowna Courier:
Much has been truthfully said about what Kelowna and district has done to help win the war, but a lot more could be done if the rock crusher and unnecessary work were abandoned. If you will take the trouble to investigate the cost in time, energy and money that it takes to run the crusher, you will see it as I do, an unpardonable mistake. To prove this, I would like it if you would take a good look at a deposit of road material one quarter of a mile along the same road as the crusher is on and which can be bought for $8,000. My estimate of the amount is fifty times as much material as has been put through the machine in twelve years. After you have let its small cost and usefulness sink in, take a good look at the new road running along the lake on the west side of my property and also take note of the road on the east side of the same property. This road has been there for twenty years that I know of, and the old-timers tell me that it was in use for forty years. It will carry any load it will be required to and costs nothing, while the road on the west side has cost considerable and will cost an immense fortune to maintain, as it runs through the slough.
Some people think it is the work of the Council, but to that I cannot agree, as the road on the east side would give them right of way to the clay pit and reservoir, and a legitimate road for the pipe-line, as they are trespassing on my property at present.
To see the magnitude of it, try and imagine what it would be like if the rest of Canada was run on this line, or try to picture what would become of Russia if she was as wasteful of time, energy and money as the builder of that fool road.

HUGH TURNER.

Kelowna, October 16, 1942.

To the Editor, Kelowna Courier:
Despite the pressure of my duties, I cannot any longer defer the obligation and pleasure of expressing to you, on behalf of the National War Finance Committee, my thanks and deep sense of gratitude for the valuable assistance you have rendered the Third Victory Loan Campaign through the medium of your excellent paper, The Kelowna Courier.

Your edition of October 15th was indeed a splendid example of the value and co-operation of the Press and the selfless part it assumes in affairs of national appeal, and will play an important role in promoting and sustaining public interest in the Third Victory Loan campaign.

The Press has always shown its desire and willingness to assist to the full in all matters of public interest and national affairs, and The Kelowna Courier is a worthy example of that tradition.

Copies of this edition have been mailed to the Provincial Committee headquarters, Vancouver, for their file.

May I at this time also be allowed to congratulate you on your most excellent editorial, which was a model exposition of analysis and fairness.

Quoting from this editorial, may I say that we are convinced "Kelowna will not fail."

Yours very truly,

To the Editor, Kelowna Courier:
Relative to your own advertisement on Page 9 of the last issue of The Kelowna Courier, headed "I Died at Dieppe."

Whoever wrote this, in my opinion, is wasting their time and should be employed by the Federal Government, because that appeal for subscriptions to the Victory Loan is one of the finest appeals that I have seen yet, either on this or the other side of the line. Please accept my heartfelt congratulations.

It would make a splendid reading for a good elocutionist over the air, so would you be kind enough, if the "ad." has not been copyrighted and could be used at one's discretion, to let me have, say, six copies of page 9 of the issue referred to.

Again congratulating you on this more than well worded appeal.

Yours faithfully,
E. F. McDERMID.

CARE OF LINEN WILL EXTEND USEFULNESS

Scarcity of New Linen Makes Care of Household Stock Essential For Duration

With incomes reduced by taxation and supplies less plentiful than formerly, it becomes doubly important to take good care of household linen.

Linen nowadays frequently means "cotton," because there is a scarcity of linen on the market, and few people are now able to purchase linen sheets and pillow slips, linen table cloths and napkins. However, whether or not the house is equipped with linen or with cotton, these fabrics must be made to last as long as possible.

Experts point out that the life of linens can be extended through careful laundering, so, with less money to spend on replacement, now is the time to follow the best laundering advice.

Laboratory tests show that linens stand up best under home washing. If proper care is observed, but experts point out that the greatest damage in modern laundering is due to misuse of bleaches. Often directions accompanying bleaches call for the use of more than is really safe for fabrics.

Clothes should be ironed within a few hours after dampening. Mildew and rust are bugbears of the home laundress, and mildew is caused by prolonged dampness or by putting away linens in warm weather before they are thoroughly dry after ironing.

Rust is caused by contact with metal vessels or clothes lines from which the outer finish is worn or

FARMERS GET ANTI-FREEZE

Glycol Type Anti-Freeze Banned For Use by Motorists—Farmers to Get Alcohol for Trucks

Owners of passenger cars and farm trucks on the farms and in or around towns scattered throughout Canada have been informed that they will be allowed sufficient alcohol for their automobile radiators this coming winter. This assurance was given in a recent Munitions and Supply order. The more stable anti-freezing types will be used in the making of explosives and other war materials.

Sales have been prohibited, for use in passenger cars, trucks and motor cycles, of anti-freeze known as the ethylene glycol type. Immense quantities of this anti-freeze are required for many war uses. A previous order banned the use of glycerine as anti-freeze for motor vehicles.

Every Victory Loan during the last war was a success. Every Victory Loan during this war has been over-subscribed. The need today is greater than ever, for it is victory or defeat, freedom or slavery for us all. Buy Victory Bonds and practice self-denial to buy as many as you can.

broken. Metal tubs and boilers, enamel containers and wire clothes lines should be carefully inspected. The safest way to remove rust is by application of a two per cent solution of oxalic acid, after which thorough rinsing is necessary. Since oxalic acid is a violent poison, it must be guarded in the household and kept out of the medicine cabinet.

There must be a never-ceasing flow of weapons for our fighting men who have sacrificed to the limit of their means. We, at home, must practice self-denial; we must stint, save and buy all the Victory Bonds within our power.

THIS WAY TO ALASKA

The great force of United States soldiers carving a highway to Alaska through the Canadian wilderness has conquered obstacles of all kinds.
Through the bush and across muskeg and rivers the road now extends for hundreds of miles. A typical ferry used by the army's engineers is shown in this photo. Utilizing the river's current, a barge forces its way across on the end of a wire cable from shore to shore.

Canadian Seeds Do Well In Old Country Gardens Real Estate Boom On

By MARGARET BUTCHER

HOME again. And how good it seems to be here! With the end of the month my duties in the country ended, and yesterday I came back to "Gran" and a splendid welcome. For six weeks I have been down there, acting as caretaker, if you please, and wondering, a little at the strangeness of life in a country town.

Now the house is having new tenants. Almost as soon as my foot was over the doorstep, I have no doubt, and vans appeared and purged the place of every stick. House perperty, believe me, is no drug on the market nowadays. With the first breath of a house for sale, they come flocking around, and it's just a matter of taking the highest bidder.
It seems to be nearly everybody's idea of heaven in these times—"our own place"—and the new tenants have been waiting for two whole years for their own place. Poor dears. These sales of furniture, too, are not what they were. People know that nothing will be manufactured for a very long time, and things which once went into a job lot now sell as individual pieces.
Even odd cups and saucers mean real money these days, for china is scarce and expensive. The chances of being bombed out are simply considered, for that is a chance everybody has to take, and it is ignored. Of course, alterations and repairs cannot be done as they once were. There will be no installation of electric light, for instance, and such distempers as must be done,
I fancy, will be got through by the people themselves. But the relief in their eyes when they know, at last,
that the house was to be theirs!

Everything Snapped Up
Old boxes, once thrown out, now sell for firewood, and plants in pots go well in a sale—for the sake of the pot. The auctioneer sells me.
Solidly made furniture, however unlovely, is snapped up; in fact, I am going back for the sale in order to snaffle a few pieces as an investment. One will take a chance on safe storage and hope to see one's money back, later on, with a little welcome interest. Carpets are real, solid value, too. It is all a revelation of the strange perils of a war.
Nothing can be wasted now.

Well, I managed to keep myself happy and amused down there, even during the time when I was alone in the house, with night alerts liven the dark hours. During the day I often went out sketching—and, what is more, I have sold some of my work. I think folk realize that "permanence" is no longer a word with any real meaning, and they like some sort of a record of their homes and familiar surroundings. So I have managed to make a little money for myself and give a certain amount of pleasure at the same time—which isn't a bad combination of qualities, is it? One has to get all sorts of permission to sketch, naturally; police and various Army authorities go into one's bona fides and make sure that one has no ulterior motive in squatting about like that. I was cautious, I but, for all that, my guess is that there were plenty of inhabitants who rushed hot-foot with news of my goings-on. Well, maybe that's better than never having anything reported at all. I was careful to avoid anything even remotely resembling a military objective... just as careful as I was to avoid those all-pervading small boys.

A Hideous Proceeding
The train journey home again was a hideous proceeding, but train journeys are like that in these times, and one must expect it. One gets used to it. And people are all very decent and helpful, making the best of things. Our queer little corridor trains, with their box-like compartments, don't do much to improve conditions, for every compartment is crammed and the corridors, too, are usually full of people standing or trying to sit on pieces of luggage.
There is one comfort: no distance in this country can be a very long one—though slow trains certainly create the illusion that they are!

One gets talking to other folk and, somehow the time passes. I got into conversation with an airman who had only recently returned from Hullafax, N.S., and he interested me quite a lot. I must hand it to you folks for kindness, for he had a wonderful story to tell. In April, victory. Which do you prefer?

poor young fellow, he heard that his wife had died leaving two children; and, straight away, he was inundated with offers from kindly people out there who were willing and anxious to take the children and care for them.
"One girl," he said to me, "even offered to make the crossing and fetch them back to Canada for me.
I've never known anything like that in my life, and I'm really a stranger after all." So you see, he will never forget his trip to Canada, I'm sure.

Prolonged Drought

This district is still suffering from prolonged drought, although there was a good bit of rain down in the West Country. The allotment, I see, is not at its best; green things have either wilted or have shot upwards inordinately, and the ground is dust. But the thoughtful friend who sent me those Canadian seeds will be gratified to know that they have done better than anything else, rain or no rain. The lettuce is really beautiful, as large as bouquets and every leaf eatable—though perhaps too beautiful to be devoured with a clear conscience. Now the onions are coming on with little black jackets, just for a surprise, and the beans have already made me one excellent meal, together with the carrots, which look really fine.

I am delighted with those Canadian seeds, and the Gardening Pan-ner has already been caught looking at them with the jaundiced eye of envy. I shall let some of the plants run to seed and see what they will produce next year, for they are certainly good stock.

Corner Pig Buckets

Down in the country there are pig buckets at nearly every corner, waiting for kitchen refuse, and this must mean a tremendous saving in animal food, for these buckets seem to fill very rapidly. Most of the citizens, I noticed, were extremely coy about the business, creeping out at dusk, but I am afraid I walked quite shamelessly, even at broad noon, with my little private bucket in hand, not seeing any reason for coyness.

I think there should be pig clubs and pig buckets everywhere, and am surprised that we are forced to waste so much in this town. But this promiscuous bombing of country places has done a lot to wake people up, so it has not been an unmitigated evil. A town not twenty miles away was badly smashed while I was in the locality, and I was surprised to find what quietness the news was taken.

There was no panicky gossip at all—and I can remember the time when it took little more than a hint for their English friends' surroundings, frankly, are a great part of our lives now, for the price of vegetables in the stores has gone up 300 per cent in many cases, at least, and some things cannot be bought at all. But those of us who grow our own food, even in a bad season have a measure of glorious independence; we can go out and pull our food out of the earth instead of waiting irritably in a queue.

Can you afford NOT to buy the new Victory Bonds? There is only ONE answer for every patriotic Canadian man or woman. Victory Bonds are an investment in your own personal freedom or security.
It is slavery or liberty, defeat or victory. Which do you prefer?

PARTY OF LOCAL ARTISTS PLEASE VERNON SOLDIERS

Audience of Eight Hundred Enjoy Entertainment Given by Local Amateurs at Vernon Drill Hall

Enthusiastic response from a capacity audience of 800 soldiers met the efforts of the Kelowna concert party in the Drill Hall of the Vernon Training Camp last Wednesday, October 14, when Mrs. Cameron Day led a group of amateur performers northward to Vernon to present an informal program for the boys in uniform.

"I hope that some of 'my' boys are here," said Mrs. Day, responding to the rousing welcome given the concert party. "In the past month over forty men have visited my home on week-ends arranged by the Hostess Club. We hope you'll like our concert just as much as week-ends in Kelowna."

With wise-cracking Harry T. Mitchell as master of ceremonies, the concert included vocal and instrumental solos, character monologues, a Scottish Sword Dance by Margaret Mitchell, accompanied on the pipes by Charles Henderson, of Glenmore, and novelty and comic dancing.

The performers were Mr. and Mrs.
Cameron Day, "Tiny" Walrod, Miss Frances Powell, Miss Audrey Dil-worth, Mr. and Mrs. Cowen, Freddy Thompson, Margaret Mitchell, Charles Henderson, Mrs. A. H. DeMara, Mrs. Isabel Murray Campbell, Mrs.
Rupert Brown, Mrs. J. Mitchell, and Greta Shireff. Mrs. Carl Dunaway accompanied at the piano.

Rev. Frank Henderson suggested the original idea of a concert party, but left for service with the Air Force before a concert could be organized. The idea remained, however, and a little brisk phoning concluded arrangements, with hearty co-operation being received from the Auxiliary War Services in Vernon.

Results in Rush to Beat

A lot of Kelowna motorists holding AA gasoline coupon books filled up their tanks on Saturday when word of the coming reduction in the gas quota, from four to three gallons, reached the city.
In Vancouver, where an extra gallon or two is doubly precious, the rush of motor car owners to the service stations was so great that most places were sold out before closing time Saturday night. Many owners of large cars that get an all mileage to a gallon of gas and who have been reduced to AA category are faced with the fact that they will be out of coupons by the first of the year. Colder weather and the shortage will force the laying up of a lot of cars and many owners are thinking twice before they use their cars these days.

WE'RE GOING TO NEED SO MANY THINGS WHEN THE WAR ENDS ...things that are hard to get now

Every day, almost, we find that something else is getting scarce. So often, we are told "they're not making it any more". Factories are making guns instead of ploughs, tanks instead of tractors, planes and shells instead of stoves and beds. We'll have to replace so many things when the war ends... things we can't buy now.

MONEY INVESTED IN VICTORY BONDS

will provide the cash to buy them

TWO WAYS TO BUY VICTORY BONDS NOW

—with Cash

... in one lump sum, with money we have saved. There is no safer investment... no better way to protect our savings.

Or—we can buy bonds and pay for them through our banks in monthly instalments. As the instalments come due the bank will charge them to our accounts.

—with Produce

Farm folk can pay for Victory
Bonds in another, convenient way—by using the "PRODUCE FOR VICTORY" TICKET. By simply signing a "Victory Ticket" you can authorize those who buy produce from you to send all or part of the proceeds to the War Finance Committee to buy Victory Bonds for you.
(Ask your local War Finance worker for details.)

WHAT A VICTORY BOND IS

Look at a dollar bill. A dollar bill is like a bond. It's a promise to pay to the man who has it. You get bills when you sell things and pay them out when you buy things. A Victory Bond is "a bill" intended to be saved. When you keep a $100.00 Victory Bond for a year you receive an additional $3.00. (3% interest). Buy all the Victory Bonds you can—lend money to Canada to help to win the war. Save your bonds to have money for things you'll need when the war ends.

AIR CADET SQUADRON IN HIGH SCHOOL

Committee From Kelowna Gyro Club is Directing Formation of New Unit For Senior Students — P. J. Kitely
C.O.

Plans are well under way for the establishment of an Air Cadet Squadron in the Kelowna High School. The Kelowna Gyro Club has taken an active part in backing the scheme, which has the active support and co-operation of the R.C.A.F. A controlling committee of five will be appointed, and appointment made so far include W. W. Pettigrew, W. J. Logie and Gordon Finch.

Uniforms will be supplied by the Air Cadet League of Canada, and P. J. Kitely will be C.O. of the Kelowna squadron. R. E. Flower is the unit's adjutant, and Dr. J. S. Henderson will act as medical air cadet officer.

Students have greeted with enthusiasm the formation of the Air Cadet squadron, and it is expected that the majority of the senior students will sever their connection with the High School Cadet Corps and join the Air Cadets. Junior boys will continue to take cadet training, and seniors may choose which group they would prefer to join.

In addition to uniforms, the Air Cadet League supplies all books and equipment used in training. The air cadets will study theory of flight, navigation, armament, mathematics, signals and administration. Although the course is promoted by the R.C.A.F., there is no obligation incumbent upon an air cadet at the completion of his course. However, if an air cadet does subsequently join the Air Force, he will find that the knowledge gained is of great benefit. At the end of the course of instruction, cadets take an examination set by the Air Force.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

EXPRESSES THANKS

Special Products Board

Vancouver, October 17, 1942.

To the Editor, Kelowna Courier:

I would like to express my sincere thanks to the citizens of the Okanagan Valley who are in any way concerned with the contract to supply onions for the United Kingdom.

In the first place, these onions were to have been shipped fresh, but shortly before the day of shipment I received advice that this movement could not take place. In the negotiations regarding dehydration there were many unavoidable delays but just as soon as the details were settled I decided to leave Ottawa and visit the Valley.

Every one has co-operated splendidly, and I would like especially to mention the Interior Vegetable Marketing Agency, B. C. Tree Fruits Ltd., Mr. F. A. Lewis and all shippers on Bulman's Limited. The women and men who are peeling the onions and working at Bulman's are performing a real patriotic service in supplying the British with much wanted product. During my visit to Bulman's Limited I shed many a tear, and I appeal to those who are in a position to do so to take their share in this trying but necessary work.

Yours very truly,
KARL B. CONGER,
Fruit & Vegetable Products Section.

More About KELOWNA DISTRICT

sang, joined the prayers and solemnly repeated the pledge. The crowd became part and parcel of the ceremony, an indication surely of the temperament of the people of this district.

The ceremony itself ran its prescribed course smoothly and effectively. "O Canada" was sung lustily, and Archdeacon Catchpole offered a prayer for His Majesty, the King, the members of the Royal Family, and all those in authority over us. "Onward Christian Soldiers" was joined by most of the people present, after which Rev. W. W. McPherson prayed for the men of the three fighting services and the merchant marine.

There was a pregnant hush as C. R. Bull, chairman of the Kelowna District, stepped to the mike to present the Commando Dagger to the people's representative.

The dagger had been carried by a guard of honor in the forefront of the parade and had been held by the guard of honor immediately in front of the platform which had been erected on the steps of the Bank of Commerce.

The guard of honor stepped smartly forward and Mr. Bull took the dagger, held it for the crowd to see, and explained its purpose.

He said that it was one of the regular issue to our Commandos, and that it had been flown from England to become the symbol of this district's pledge to supply the local men in the armed services with the tools of war, the weapons with which they may successfully wage our fight for freedom. As soon as Kelowna received its objective, the dagger will be flown back overseas and placed in the hands of a Kelowna soldier who will use it in actual combat.

Mr. Bull recalled that Kelowna had never failed in any call and that it cannot fail this personal appeal from the local men in the service forces. He expressed the hope, as he handed the Dagger to Mayor McKay, that it might be among the very first to start its journey back overseas.

Accepting the Dagger on behalf of the people of the district, Mayor McKay stated that he was confident that the people he represented would not fail to answer the call for weapons sent out by their fellow townsmen overseas. He expressed the belief that the quota would be reached and that Kelowna would again maintain the proud record it has established in the past.

Mrs. Phyllis Trenwith sang "Land of Hope and Glory," the crowd joining in the choruses.

"LET KELOWNA SET THE PACE," SAYS C. R. BULL

Urges That This Unit Show Leadership to Whole of Canada

Although it is known that Vernon is making a strong effort to beat Kelowna to the wire, local War Finance officials believe that Kelowna will set the pace for all Canada in the Victory Loan campaign.

"Three hundred and eighty-five thousand dollars is a large assignment for this area," said C. R. Bull, local War Finance chairman, "but crushing the Axis is a large assignment also."

"It is imperative, for the safety of this country and this valley, that our fighting men achieve victory. It is imperative, also, that we on the home front exert every effort to help achieve that victory."

Mr. Bull told The Courier that his committee has been considerably heartened by indications of virtually all-out support for the Victory Loan. "As usual," he said, "there has been a minor crop of slackers, but as pointed out by labor leaders and other bodies, differences of opinion—which are the prerogative of a democracy—must be swept into the discard in favor of the paramount duty of every one in every walk of life to help make sure that no faltering on the home front will minimize the tremendous efforts and sacrifices of our fighting services."

"Nothing matters now but victory," continued Mr. Bull, "and every man and woman who reflects upon that phrase must realize how true it is, how vital it is, for the maintenance of the liberties we hold dear—liberties that have been lost by those countries which failed to realize their dire peril."

"There seems to be one angle not yet clearly defined in the public mind, and that is the danger of inflation if spending is uncontrolled. Without elimination of luxuries and curtailment of necessities, there is danger of inflation which will force prices of goods still higher, depreciating the value of every dollar in every pocket."

"Not only will money raised by the sale of Victory Bonds help to produce victory, but the postponement of spending until post-war days will help to create a healthier and a sounder economic situation in Canada."

"We have a threefold job: 1, to win the war; 2, to raise money for war production; 3, to maintain production to keep our fighting forces equipped."

"No amount of so-called 'reasoning' can deny these salient facts. Let us in Kelowna take off our coats and set the pace for all British Columbia, at least. Let us display leadership here. Let us do the job well and quickly."

To Keep on a Bandage

Where it is difficult to keep a bandage in place on a leg, knee or foot injury, try sewing a piece of old linen on the stocking just where it is needed. If tacked on with cotton to match the stocking, it is almost invisible.

MRS. E. L. ELLIOT PASSES AWAY

The death occurred at her home in Westbank on Tuesday last of Mrs. Luella Estella Elliot, wife of the late Grieve Elliot. The deceased had resided in Westbank for the past twenty years. She was 70 years of age at the time of her death, and was born in the United States. Funeral services will be held today in Westbank at 2.30 p.m. Mrs. Grieve Elliot leaves, besides her husband, one sister, Mrs. C. M. Ball, of Detroit.

The funeral service will be conducted by Mr. Fairfield, the pallbearers being J. Griffin, Jr., G. Stutler, G. Hussey, B. Gorman, D. Webber and A. Funnell.
